

TWO THOUSAND TEN

2010

TWO THOUSAND TEN

FOOTPRINTS

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2011 with funding from
St. Joseph's College, New York

<http://www.archive.org/details/footprints2010stjo>

Click to LOOK INSIDE!

Click to LOOK INSIDE!

Click to LOOK INSIDE!

Click to LOOK INSIDE!

Click to LOOK INSIDE!

Click to LOOK INSIDE!

FOOTPRINTS 2010

"Facing the Future"

St. Joseph's College

245 Clinton Avenue--Brooklyn, New York--(718) 399-0345

Small Faces. St. Joseph's College is one of the premier teacher-training schools in the entire metropolitan area. Very early in their major, Early Childhood students experience what it is like to interact with young children by doing fieldwork at the Dillon Child Study Center, serving as assistants to teachers, and working with the youngsters whenever possible. Their experiences are then discussed in their coursework that leads to New York State certification as teachers (photo above).

Finding the future. Vans bearing advertising information about SJC were a common sight throughout Brooklyn as the school competed with other area colleges for the best students. "I am a future leader" was one of the major ad slogans that appeared on signs and billboards all over the borough (photo above).

New faces. We all started out like this—freshmen. A little wary, a little intimidated by the whole college experience. We tended to cling together at the beginning until we realized that upperclassmen were very helpful and welcoming—and eager to make us all feel right at home (photo above).

The

It was inevitable. We knew from the first day we arrived at SJC, that there would come a time when all of it would end, when we would have to look our lives squarely in the eye and decide what the next step would be. This year's theme for Footprints 2010 is "Facing the Future." In these times of economic uncertainty, the very idea of facing the future can cause great anxiety. But, college has prepared us in many ways and if the future in fact belongs to us, then we might as well take that first step and see what it holds.

Theme

Face the front. The first day back in September is full of excitement at starting anew, seeing old friends and taking new classes. But when you approach Tuohy Hall for the first time, you know it's the real deal (photo above).

Long face. Not every day will bring unremitting joy. With the pressures of being an undergraduate, there are times when it builds up and you simply have to escape from it all. For Cindy Maj, that means slipping into the auditorium in Tuohy Hall for a few moments of 'alone' time, time to reflect upon the day (photo above).

Facing the unknown. Pretty scary, this whole future thing. Maybe that's why seniors spend so much time checking bulletin boards for job opportunities, or current internships, or schedules for LSATs or GREs. In college, all seems safe and secure. It's what lurks without that is so frightening (photo above).

Kissy face. It's just part of the whole college experience. Boyfriend-girlfriend, public displays of affection, letting your emotions get the best of you. Neither Joanna Marciniak nor Mike Dziewit seem to mind having been caught in the act (photo above).

Wave of the future. No self-respecting college student will be caught dead carrying a Jitterbug. No, for this crowd it's the latest iPhone or similar device that does everything but steam your clothes and make waffles (photo left).

Facebook. As indispensable as a cell phone is a Facebook account, the social networking site that is rapidly beginning to relegate oral communication to a relic from the past. Checking a Facebook account at least once daily is almost vital to hearing all the latest (photo above).

In your face! Looks like a heated discussion between Justin Burke and Sean Dorso in Evodio's Place. Maybe it was about the Yankees or, dare we say it a girl. But sometimes tempers run high and you just have to be vocal about making your point (photo above).

Facing the consequences. Stayed up too late watching Conan? Late night dance rehearsals? Just hung with friends? When there are papers and assignments due, professors do not care to hear alibis, so that might mean extra hours spent in the library getting the job done. It also might mean dozing off in the middle of a major research project (photo right).

Theme

Face of despair. All right, so it doesn't always go your way on an exam or in a class. If you are like Anthony Grasso, you realize that this is the time to pick yourself up from the desolation and start all over again. Sometimes, wake-up calls can be very helpful things! (photo above).

Future trends. Of course there is life after college, but whether or not it is extraterrestrial life remains to be seen. If there is some other life form out there, Mike Capizzo wants to be ready to communicate with them. To that end, he is fully prepared with his aluminum foil conical receiver (photo above).

Faccia Bella! Yes, the Italians had a word for it, or a couple of words. Translated, they mean 'beautiful face,' and saying that phrase is often accompanied by a pinch on both the cheeks. In this case, Wynne Ganthier is the pinchee, and Samantha Sotomayor the pincher (photo above).

Poker face. Well, maybe it's more like a 'rummy' face since there are only two players. But Irene Triant is very careful about her 'tell,' the slightest mannerism that might give away the nature of her hand, even in a congenial common hour game of cards (photo left).

Theme

Two-faced. It's not that Matt Walsh is really two-faced, it's just that he, like any other undergraduate or grad student, can experience the entire panoply of feelings during the day. When things go right, you are all optimism, such as when you 'ace' an exam, or get a paper in on time (photo above).

Two-faced. Ah, but sit through a particularly tedious lecture, or don't do as well as you thought you did on a test, and your mood swings in the opposite direction like the pendulum on some enormous clock. All is gloomy and dark until, of course, it swings back the other way (photo above).

Figuring out the future. Grad school? Work? Travel? These are the questions seniors have during their last year of school. Director of Counseling Frank LaTerra is always glad to help students like Regina Normil figure it out (photo left)

A face in the crowd. You can sit in a crowded auditorium, like Martin Torres, and be completely unaware of what is happening around you--and still, you will be noticeable. Sooner or later, everyone's face gets spotted (photo below).

Smiley faces. It's not that we didn't love our professors, but some days, when you got to class and found a flyer posted saying that he or she would be absent, you just had to smile. Lisa Murphy and Christina Indart must be thinking about how they will use that class time to study for their other subjects (photo left).

S tuffing your face. When time is of the essence—as it usually is for a very busy Catherine Muldoon—you just eat whatever is available, and quickly (photo above).

T he future of learning. There was once a time when bringing a 15-pound cassette recorder to a lecture was considered hi-tech. Now, students bring laptops, netbooks, digital recording devices and any other modern wonders that can help them get all the information they need to do well in a subject. They're small, wireless, quiet, and the wave of the future for students (photo above).

A face to die for. Think of it more as dressing for success than preening, sort of. But for Victoria Curran, appearance is very important, so she takes those extra few moments to make herself presentable before facing a day of classes at St. Joseph's. Looks like she got it right! (photo above).

Theme

Saving face. Ever have one of those days? Seems that John Porcelli is right in the middle of one as he turns the simple act of removing bathroom tissue from the sole of his sneaker into a balletic move worthy of the Bolshoi or the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater (photo above).

Putting on a brave face. There are those who think that working out is fun, that getting those endorphins flowing is a worthy high. Maybe that's what accounts for marathon runners. But for lesser mortals, like Joanna Marciniak, it takes courage and stamina to spend an hour in the gym (photo above).

Face to face. Sometimes when you need to settle a conflict, speak to a classmate, or be briefed on something you might have missed in class, the face to face approach is the best. Oh, you can always shoot off a text message or an email, but there is nothing that provides resolution quite like sitting down with someone and getting to the bottom of things. For Cadina Hicks, it's the only way to go (photo left).

As many of us recall, student life at SJC began on Day 1 during Orientation and the following day at the Club Fair. There we learned about many of the activities available to students at the College, got to meet some of the people who ran those activities, and mapped out which of the many offerings appealed to us--such as the Fashion Club, whose members offered a display of current fashions plus photos of their popular fashion shows (photo above).

The Dance Team has been a staple at SJC home basketball games for years. Bears and Lady Bears fans have been entertained by their complex and artistic routines at halftime and their sideline enthusiasm has proven to be an inspiration to the teams. Here they perform at the annual basketball preview, Midday Madness (photo above).

Holiday Fest is a major activity at Christmas time on the SJC Brooklyn campus. One of the key events is the raffle of baskets that are provided by each club, team and organization on campus. Sherrie VanArnam, Director of Co-Curricular Programs, presents a basket of items to raffle winner Antonia Green (photo above).

Student Life

There needs to be life outside of the classroom to relieve the stress of studying, papers and exams. St. Joseph's College has never been lacking in a plethora of activities for its student body, whether they be in the form of clubs, teams, publications and other organizations that contribute to the overall campus scene. Besides, student life and the extracurricular programs prepare students for the future, exposing them to different cultures, a diverse Student Body and events they might not ordinarily experience. Student Life will always remain a major part of the college experience.

Room 101

Student Life Center Makes it Happen

Each month, the Office of Student Life publishes a calendar of events that will take place on campus for a four or five week period. Multiply that calendar by the ten months of the school year, and you will have some idea of the scope of what this office produces. As Director of Co-Curricular Activities, Sherrie VanArnam and her staff put together an assemblage of programs and events that appeal to virtually every segment of the St. Joseph's College community.

The SGA and CAB work year round to provide interesting speakers, exciting events and innovative programs, adding new ones each year to keep the overall catalogue of events fresh.

Scarcely a Common Hour goes by without something happening either in the auditorium of Tuohy Hall or at Evodio's Place or even on the mall.

Students frequently come to the Office of Student Life with questions, issues or suggestions that will make SJC stronger and even more diverse.

Student Life Specialist Michele Corsetti is a vital part of the Room 101 Team. In addition to handling many of the 'nuts and bolts' details of the large number of student activities held on campus each year, she helps advertise and publicize them by creating artistic posters and flyers (photo above).

As Program Director of Campus Activities Board, Justin Burke oversees the various programs that CAB schedules during the course of the year, beginning their work over the summer. Jaime Vacca-Hoefner is the Moderator of CAB and helps plan and coordinate all events (photo above).

Even with the enormous pressures of running the Student Government Association, president Jacki Collins manages to keep her cool and remain all smiles. SGA runs the day-to-day management of the large extracurricular program at St. Joseph's and funding new activities as they are created (photo left).

The Student Life Office is a suite that is the center of all student activities on the Brooklyn campus. It houses SGA, CAB, Chapel Players, and it is the clearing house for information about the who, what, when and where of events at SJC. Director of Co-Curricular Programs Sherrie VanArman oversees the many activities and their budgets that keep the students of SJC involved (below).

It's always noses to the grindstone for the officers of the Student Government Association. While senior Regina Normil, treasurer of SGA writes checks to fund club activities, junior Nina Zito, secretary and president-elect of SGA, prepares the minutes from the last council meeting for distribution to the officers. Open cubicles allow students easy access to the officers (photo above).

Club presidents and officers often avail themselves of the equipment in Room 101 to create flyers publicizing their activities' events (photo above).

Publications

After the news arrived in mid-January that for the fifth year in a row, both Footprints and The Spirit, SJC's major publications, had won First Place in the ASPA annual contest and review, the editors and staff paused briefly to celebrate their success. But then it was right back to work again. "The task of putting out a yearbook and newspaper never seems to end," said Editor in Chief Jaclyn Verbil. "As soon as you finish one job, there's another one to attend to," she added. With an influx of new staff members, mostly freshman, Director of Student Publications Dr. Howard Weiner was kept busy training the neophytes and initiating them into the subtleties of things like graphic design, layout, journalistic prose and a host of other skills associated with major publications.

"These young students are eager to learn, and more importantly, eager to lead. I think we should have outstanding staffs for years to come," he said.

And so even as work continued on Footprints 2010, the publications staff was already looking ahead and working on the 2011 edition of the yearbook.

Clearly, the work is always in progress for St. Joseph's College's publications.

Having Our Say

The three years that I have spent as the Editor in Chief of both Footprints and The Spirit have given me great skills in writing, editing and directing the activities of staff members. I plan on using all that I have learned in my teaching career.

There have been days when I just did not know how all the work was going to get done. But it's great to see a staff pull together and make these award-winning publications come together. I'm very proud of the work all of us have done on SJC publications.

—Catherine Muldoon

One thing I have learned as the Editor in Chief of the yearbook and newspaper is how to multitask. There are so many details that must be seen to, so many people to manage—as a business major, I am sure I will use all of this in my career.

—Kristen McMaster

Because I'm just a freshman, it came as a great surprise and honor to be chosen as the assistant editor of both the newspaper and the yearbook. I will try to live up to the expectations Dr. Weiner has placed in my and work to put out publications that the whole school will be proud of.

—Maureen Saintilus

The internet has become a great source of information for school publications and a tool for fact checking. Maureen Saintilus uses a computer to check biographical details (photo above).

Veteran publications staffer Marsha Desrosiers makes out the monthly calendar of events for staff members in the Publications Office in St. Angela Hall (photo right).

Emily Spence checks a group of page proofs for Footprints 2010. Only a freshman, the new staffer learned the importance of proofreading every word to avoid errors, which ultimately raise costs (photo left).

Editor in Chief Kristen McMaster makes out the 'beat sheet' for an edition of The Spirit before assigning articles to her staff members (photo below).

Copies of The Spirit were snapped up as soon as they were placed around the school. Students took time out from their studies to catch up on all the latest campus news and events (photo above).

Learning all the details of yearbook production takes time. Maureen Saintilus and Jennifer Rosa peruse previous copies of Footprints to get ideas for yearbooks of the future (photo above).

Members of the faculty and staff are amongst the first to get The Spirit after it has gone to press. Jennifer Rosa distributes copies to all staff members in Tuohy Hall (photo left).

Investiture

New Students Welcomed to SJC Fold in Moving Ceremony

Tassels turned from right to left and it was official: the freshmen of the Class of 2013 were now members in full of the St. Joseph's College community.

In a moving ceremony on September 14, the incoming class was greeted by the college's administration and welcomed as first year students at one of New York City's premier educational institutions.

College President S. Elizabeth Hill addressed the students and told them the significance of Investiture, of 'belonging' to a place that is as much a family as it is a college.

In S. Margaret Buckley's address, she stressed the importance of falling into routines quickly and never losing sight of academic achievement as the reason the new students are in college.

At Investiture, the new members of the Student Government Association and Campus Activities Board were installed and presented to the new class and their guests.

"I remember how moved I was as a freshman at Investiture," said senior Marsha Desrosiers. "It was the first time I had experienced that sense of community before and I knew I had made the right decision in coming to St. Joe's."

Benediction was offered--and the new class had arrived.

Professor Carol Hayes of the Biology Department serves as Marshal for Investiture, bearing the college mace and leading the processional of SGA and CAB members, followed by the new Class of 2013 (photo above).

Academic Dean S. Margaret Buckley addresses the incoming Class of 2013 and stresses to them the importance of diligence in scholarship and approaching college with a mature outlook and attitude (photo above).

S. Elizabeth Hill congratulates this year's recipients of Presidential Scholarships--full four-year scholarships at SJC (photo left).

HOW'D YOU LIKE IT?

■ This was an exciting event. It allowed me to see that I am now officially a part of my college and its community.

—Justina Pierre

■ Freshman Investiture was one of many events that made me feel like my college career had really started.

—Daphnie Bordes

■ A feeling of belonging is very important. After Investiture, I felt as if I were truly a part of St. Joseph's College.

--Samantha Schroder

■ The entire Investiture ceremony was very moving. Now I feel like I am part of the St. Joseph's College family.

--Michael LaGuidice

At that very moment when the freshman class dons its mortarboards, they are officially members of St. Joseph's College as the Class of 2013 (photo left).

Parents of the incoming Class of 2013 join with their children in the traditional blessing of the Freshman Class (photo above left).

Havin' Our Say!

Aside from the good food and great music, the BBQ brought the school together. It was also good to see all the clubs and teams SJC has.

—Danielle Endes

This was a great way to reunite with friends you haven't seen all summer. Also, there were a lot of activities and loads of food.

—Kelly Hartney

The food was really good at the barbecue and this was a great way to catch up with all of my friends that I didn't get to see over the summer.

--Andriana Dillard

This was really great! We had the table set up for Beta Upsilon Delta and we were very fortunate to get a lot of students to sign up.

—Briana Manza

I loved the barbecue because I got to see all of my friends again who I haven't seen since the spring semester. It was terrific!

—Mike Capizzo

In keeping with the entire carnival-like atmosphere of the day, Sean Dorso whips up a cotton candy cone for hungry party-goers. He wound up making nearly a hundred cotton candies during the long afternoon's celebration of the new semester (photo right).

At the Knight Moves set-up, Christian Branch and Jenifer Linehan show off some steps while playing Dance Dance Revolution. There were numerous chances for students to participate in games and activities at the barbecue (photo below).

As always, the Back to School BBQ/Club Fair was a great start to the semester. There was record attendance and a large interest in our club program.

—Jaime Vacca-Hoefner

I thought the barbecue was a big success. It was very well-attended and it gave the freshmen a very good idea of what participation at the school is like.

—Michele Corsetti

Tommy Agostino has some Guitar Hero pointers for Michael Capizzo (photo above).

A caricature artist was on hand to make portraits of students and staff members (photo right).

Welcome Back

BBQ Sets Tone for School Fun

It wasn't the calm before the storm, but rather the fun before the serious business of school began. The Welcome Back Barbecue had all the trappings of a huge block party during which members of all four SJC classes mingled and got to know one another. "It felt a lot like a church carnival," said freshman Daphnie Bordes. "Cotton candy, food, music I felt a lot less uneasy about college after we had the barbecue," she added. SGA Secretary Nina Zito said, "It's an icebreaker. The upper-termers get to see their friends again, and the freshmen see how easy it is to fit right in and be welcomed." With DJ Royale providing the music and the crew from Evodio's Place flipping the burgers, everyone got to eat and drink their fill before dancing for hours. Serious business lay ahead but for now, it was all about the fun.

Aijalon Northington, Vice President of the Fashion Club, staffs the table and its displays during Club Fair to answer questions and recruit new students to the club (photo above).

Parang + Christmas = Party!

Take the driving beat of music from Trinidad and Tobago, mix it with the Hispanic spirit of parranda, which means 'to party,' and then mix it with the festiveness of the Christmas season and you've got yourself one big party!

For the students from the Professional and Graduate School, the annual visit of Los Tocadores Parang is a much-anticipated event on campus. It heralds the approach of the Christmas break and the end of the semester, and it gives the PGS students an outlet for some time to spend with friends and classmates.

Evodio's Place was the scene of this year's party and the number of traditional Caribbean as well as American dishes available to the revelers was astonishing.

The music itself, performed by highly skilled musicians, was a mix of Hispanic, Venezuelan, Colombian, Cuban and Trinidadian sounds and shadings that proved infectious for the party-goers. There was no want of dancers on the floor showing off their moves.

Faculty and staff members also joined in the fun of the party, recognizing the joy at ending yet another term of school, preparing for finals--and then, the long Christmas break.

With cries of 'Encore!' echoing through Evodio's, the day ended with music still in the air.

This year's visit of Los Tocadores Parang band coincided with PGS's Christmas party, making it a doubly festive occasion. The ensemble of remarkably talented musicians brought the unique sounds of Parang to the students and staff for the fourth year in a row, highlighting the unique Latin/Caribbean flavor of the musical form (photo above).

Professor Dmitri Gartsheen of the Computer Science Department helps himself to some of the many foods available at the Parang/PGS Christmas Party, representative of Caribbean and Hispanic culture (photo left).

PGS students enjoy attending the activities that are scheduled for them so they can meet their friends, like Stephen Kennedy, Anthony Mottola, Alicja Cuglewska, Hope Barr and Ketevan Mikaberidze (photo below).

The representative from Josten's Ring Co. was onhand to take orders from PGS students for that most precious of keepsakes, the college ring (photo middle left).

It's a big holiday hug for Gloria Lewis-Bailey and Rachel Omole as they bid farewell to each other and the first semester of the academic year (photo above).

With so much food available, it was only with difficulty that the PGS students made their way to their next classes after the party had ended (photo left).

Midday Madness

Fall Ritual Introduces Varsity Teams

It's not really officially the fall on the Brooklyn campus of SJC until Midday Madness has come and gone.

Each year, in imitation of big time universities who have Midnight Madness, the more modest-sized St. Joseph's hosts its event during Common Hour.

At that time, the members of the Varsity Men's and Women's Basketball teams are introduced to the student body. They put on a shooting and skills exhibition and face off with each other in their own competitive events.

This year, SJC's new varsity Swim

Team was also introduced. For entertainment, the Dance Team and the SJC Royal Steppers Team put on an exhibition of some of the events they would be performing during half time shows at home games.

Athletic Director Frank Carbone brought Midday Madness to SJC as a way of highlighting the performance of the athletes and raising spirit & awareness amongst the students, who he hopes will come out to support all of the school's teams.

Giveaways, contests, music--all part of the rite of fall known as Midday Madness.

There are numerous participants in Midday Madness, both on and off the court. When the Common Hour event was completed, they all got together for one final photo before the varsity teams' seasons began in earnest (photo above).

For the varsity squads, it was a chance to meet their fans. Lady Bear Joanna Marciniak trots out onto the court (photo above).

Now that's what we call a rebound! Bear basketballer Lew Monaco, rebounds off the wall padding during the team's demonstration warmup. Both the men's and women's teams showed off their dribbling, shooting and passing skills to the delight of the crowd (photo left).

Kelly Hartney pumps up the crowd before the varsity teams are introduced. The Dance Team performances are a regular part of SJC basketball home games and each year, the girls come out with new and ever more elaborate routines (below).

Athletic Director and 'father' of Midday Madness Frank Carbone introduces new SJC Mascot, Clinton the Bear, as they prepare for the giveaway segment of the event (photo above).

MAD FUN!

Members of the new Lady Bears varsity Swim Team cheer on the basketball squads as they are introduced (above).

Julia Screwko leads the Lady Bears basketballers in a series of warm up exercises (photo above).

Members of the SJC Dance Team perform for the crowd, showing off routines they will use during halftimes (above).

Midday Madness is an event in which we succeed in providing a big-time collegiate atmosphere for all our students to enjoy. For one hour each year, we transform tiny Tuohy Hall gym into a mini-MSG with lights, laser shows, fog machines and tons of fun.
—Frank Carbone, Athletic Director

Junior Night

Another Milestone is Reached

Tempus fugit, as Roman poet Vergil noted in his Georgics. Time does, indeed fly.

Many of us came to that realization in April of our third year at St. Joe's as we celebrated Junior Class Night.

It was an evening dedicated to celebrating the achievements of the junior class, which now stood on the very brink of our last year of college.

For Jackie Collins, the evening highlighted the future and not the past. In her remarks to the class, she stressed the responsibilities that members of the Class of 2010 would face as seniors and how we all should be dedicated to meeting those responsibilities.

For parents, family and friends, it was a time of rejoicing as rings were blessed and presented to the future seniors.

A full buffet meal, including beverages and desserts, a chance to mingle with classmates, reminisce and barely a moment to catch one's breath before senior year arrived these were the chief events of Junior Night.

Students and staff who spoke emphasized the great promise of the Class of 2010 and all that was left for it to accomplish.

Dean of Students, Dr. Susan Hudec, congratulates Shaniqwe Smith as she comes to the podium to receive her floral souvenir (photo above).

A full dinner complete with drinks and desserts such as this opulent sheet cake were on the menu for Junior Class Night (photo above).

Reflections on a Big Night

■ This was a time to sit back and appreciate all the great things we had accomplished and look forward to our senior year.
—Christian Branch

■ It's a transition and a way of knowing senior year is on its way. It also celebrates all we did the last three years.
—Wynee Ganthier

■ This night signifies the final transition to senior year. It felt like we finally saw the results of all our hard work.
—Regina Normil

■ This was an opportunity for my class to celebrate being one step closer to completing our journey through college.
—Jackie Collins

In her remarks, Jackie Collins looked ahead to the responsibilities her class would face as seniors, and what they had achieved thus far as juniors at SJC (photo above).

Assembled members of the Class of 2010 and the committee that planned and implemented Junior Class Night (photo top).

It was a proud night for parents, friends and family members who attended Junior Night to see their sons and daughters receive their class rings (photo above).

Green Week

Take a highly motivated new club like the Mindfulness Club, add an exuberant adviser like Dr. Peter Lin, and you come up with Green Week--a campus-wide celebration of environmental consciousness that took place during the week of November 10th.

A Green Flea Market whose theme was "One Student's Trash is Another Student's Treasure," an all organic vegan lunch in Tuohy Hall, a campaign to post dozens of 'green' facts all around the campus and the urging of faculty and students to leave their cars home and take public transportation were some of the week's events.

The club's goals of cultivating a peaceful mind and generating self-wisdom were on display as the members did their part to encourage the entire SJC community to be sensitive to the needs of the environment as well as their own needs.

Jody Dublin, Assistant to the Dean of Students, serves up some organic and healthy beverages for the crowd. Not only did they not have the huge amounts of sugar that regular sodas have, but they also tasted pretty good! (photo right).

A twenty-minute film entitled "The Story of Stuff" stressed the importance of recycling as a way of keeping the planet green (photo right).

Mindfulness Club president Melissa Seimmon spoke about the aims and purposes of the club and introduced the program to the Faculty Hall portion of "Green Week" on Wednesday, November 11th, which featured a vegetarian lunch (photo left).

One of the members of the band "Sally Finch" holds up a solid rock that provided all the electricity for the "Green" band. Their lyrics are about their concern for protecting the environment and what the individual can do (photo center left).

It might not win any prizes for being the most appealing-looking food ever served at an SDU event, but the all-vegetarian and organic lunch served during Green Week won't close its eyes either (photo left).

During the "One Student's Trash is Another's Treasure" flea market, many students emptied their closets and drawers. All unclaimed items went to the Child Shelter or Park Store, Brooklyn (photo left).

I hope my students will develop more compassion and wisdom so they can face the givens of life--death, freedom, isolation and meaninglessness. To begin this process, they need to cultivate mindfulness--moment to moment non-judgmental awareness. With mindfulness, we can engage more fully in life and not be trapped by our discriminations and distress.
--Professor Peter Lin
Moderator, Mindfulness Club

Uted books proved to be a very popular item at the flea market and students picked up some major bargains (photo above).

HOLIDAY CHEER

It's natural to think of the Holiday Fest as one big event before finals week begins. But in reality, on the Brooklyn campus, the holidays are celebrated in a variety of ways.

The season kicks off with tag-making for the 'Giving Tree,' a charitable project which provides gifts for women and children in a Brooklyn shelter.

The Dillon Child Study Center then weighs in with their holiday celebration, an afternoon of activities for their children which includes the tree-lighting in Tuohy Hall, story telling, seasonal songs and a visit with Elmo.

The big day happened in Tuohy Hall on December 9th when the Holiday Festival was held. Each club and activity provided a basket of gifts which were raffled off to the party-goers. Music, food and seasonal cheer were all orders of the day as the campus came together for its major celebration.

The Alumni Association held its "Home for the Holidays" event that saw many alumni come back to the campus to reminisce and celebrate with old friends and classmates.

Yes, the holiday season is a long one at SJC, but it is that spirit of giving and joy that stays with the school for the rest of the year.

The big guy finally put in an appearance and met some eager children at the Alumni Association's 'Home for the Holidays' gathering (photo below).

Sesame Street's Elmo proved to be a big hit at the Dillon Child Study Center's Holiday Celebration. The kids came to Tuohy Hall for the tree lighting.

For the Dillon Center kids, there were a host of activities during Holiday Festival: face painting, stories, songs, and snacks and treats (photo top).

With every club and major activity providing loaded baskets of gifts, it was hard to keep track of all that loot. Baskets ranged from athletic wear provided by the Athletic Department to coffees and seasonal treats to stationery items to SJC promotional items. Crystal Tejada checks out the offerings on the Tuohy Hall stage (below).

Gearing up for the holidays started early as the Child Study Club and Campus Ministry made tags for the Giving Tree (photo above).

There was a Caribbean flavor to the afternoon's events as a steel drum performer entertained with seasonal songs (photo above).

Snapshots of the Season

SGA president Jackie Collins reads to the Dillon kids at the tree lighting.

Basket winners Antonia Green, Concetta Simon, Sean Dorso and Sam Ryan.

Linda Fonte and Karen Payne of PGS get their raffle tickets.

Jaime Vacca-Hoefner and daughter enjoy the fun at candle lighting.

Abigail Williams (Marlena Dobuler) and the other girls sit in court during the hearings on the charges of witchcraft (photo right).

Reverend Parris and his niece, Abigail Williams sit at the bedside of Betty, (Moshumi Ahmed) (photo below).

Reverend Parris, played by senior Michael Capizzo, counsels the girls about what to say if questioned about their part in the witchcraft of Salem Village (photo bottom).

John Proctor is brought to trial in Salem for witchcraft (photo right).

In a highly emotional and drama-charged moment of the show, John Proctor (Justin Burke) yells at his servant for lying (photo above).

The company of The Crucible lets off a little steam backstage (photo above).

The Crucible

Strange Doings in 1692 Salem Mirror the McCarthy Era of the 1950s

Political allegory or historical account of one of the strangest events in Colonial American history? That has always been the question about Arthur Miller's landmark drama.

Written during the era of the 'Red' witchhunts in Washington D.C., led by infamous Wisconsin Senator Joseph McCarthy, the play deals with the subjects of mass hysteria, paranoia, and turning on one's neighbor as an act of self-preservation.

In the Chapel Players' fall production, the group continues to explore socially relevant vehicles for its group of talented performers. As a follow-up to last season's daring The Laramie Project, the play forces the audience to see the insidious nature of rumor and innuendo and how it can destroy reputations--and lives.

Directed by Tom Hoefner and featuring a large cast that included Michael Capizzo, Marlena Dobuler, Justin Burke, Diana Kessel, Shaniqua Smith and Moshumi Ahmed (along with many others), The Crucible proved to be a memorable play that left the audience thinking about our own modern society.

"The terrifying thing about performing The Crucible is that, while it may not be the greatest American play ever written, it is surely in that conversation. That's Terrifying."

--Tom Hoefner Director, Chapel Players

Tituba, the Caribbean serving girl, explains how the devil forced her to perform acts of witchcraft and involve the village girls in the scheme. The role was played by senior Shaniqua Smith, a Chapel Players veteran (photo left).

Abigail Williams (Marlena Dobuler) warns Betty (Moshumi Ahmed) not to reveal to the authorities what she and the other girls did in the forest (photo middle above).

Abigail Williams is 'possessed' before the Reverend Parris (photo top).

101 NIGHTS

It has to be a little bit sad--if only just a little. Each year the campus tradition of 101 Nights marks a major moment in the lives of seniors: there are only 101 nights left until graduation.

February 22 saw over 50 members of the senior class gather at Graziella's Italian restaurant for a late afternoon of camaraderie and reminiscing with friends and classmates.

A superlative Italian buffet, a champagne toast, party favors, a chance to mingle with friends who have shared nearly four years of college with you--all against the backdrop of knowledge that in a little more than three months, it would all be over.

The Alumni Association was there to encourage seniors to remain close with St. Joseph's College and always be a part of the school in some capacity.

Remarks from the Senior Class Representative and Director of Co-Curricular Programs, Sherrie VanArnam, praised the Class of 2010 for all that they have achieved.

Who says keepsakes aren't important? Mementos of events such as 101 Nights were given to all the seniors who attended to remember the significance of this special evening (photo above).

A traditional feature of 101 Nights has been the champagne toast in honor of the graduating class. That tradition lives on with the Class of 2010 as friends hoist a glass and celebrate all that they and their classmates have achieved in three and a half years at St. Joe's (photo above).

It's always feast time at Graziella's with a huge assortment of Italian specialties for all the seniors to sample (photo above).

Samantha Ryan of the Alumni Association invites the seniors to join and stay in close touch with their alma mater, remaining a part of the SJC community (photo above).

Senior Class Representative Huldah Charles greets her classmates and compliments them upon their success (photo above).

Athletic Director Frank Carbone, Alumni Association Rep Samantha Ryan and Kim Hutchil point to the Alumni Association sign hoping the Class of 2010 will join (above).

There's always room for canollis and cookies for dessert at 101 Nights as a bevy of senior beauties gather together for some fun and some catching up (photo left).

Bittersweet?

I felt both happiness and sadness. I had a sense of fulfillment, but I was sad because college was almost over.
--Will Exantus

It's exciting to know there are 101 nights left, but also bittersweet because I won't be a part of the student body anymore.
--Regina Normil

It was exciting and sad at the same time. It feels good to be graduating after four years, but I will really miss SJC.
--Erica Quick

101 Nights was very informative and it gave me mixed feelings of excitement and sadness with graduation approaching.
--Briana Manza

It was fun to get together with the senior class and share in our last 101 nights of college together.
--Christina Santamaria

Crystal Tejada holds a pinata—a traditional Mexican party favor filled with candies and other treats. Swat it hard enough and there's a mad scramble for goodies (photo above).

What's in Maureen Donohue's glass? No worries, it's a 'mocktail,' a non-alcoholic strawberry daquiri—all part of the annual Strawberry Fest (photo above).

Now that's some major league sized sombrero! Christian from Evodio's Place shows off the latest in sombrero chic with a shout out to our good neighbor Mexico (photo above).

SPRING CARNIVAL/INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

When we first arrived at St. Joseph's College four years ago, it was called Spring Carnival, and it was a way to blow off some steam before the rigors of finals week began just a few days later.

But by the time we had reached our senior year, Carnival had morphed into the International Festival, paying tribute to the ethnically diverse population of the college.

Sponsored by the Council of Multicultural Clubs and Organizations, Tuesday, April 27th saw a wide variety of cultural events presented at the festival.

The Asian Awareness Club presented the ancient Chinese art of name painting. The Globe Spotters displayed Russian nesting dolls, or Matryoshka Dolls. The Hispanic Awareness Club had mariachi music and empanadas. There was even a mechanical bull for those enough daring enough to try to ride it.

Muchas amigas! All the senior girls at the Festival gathered for one last photo op.

And there was plenty of music as well, performed by Irish step dancers, Japanese folk dancers, West African and Peruvian dancers—plus great music that everyone could dance to, including a conga line that snaked all over the mall.

Everyone from the Desi Student Association to the Paesanos Club to the Gaelic Society wanted to be represented at the International Fair.

The afternoon proved to be great fun—and a great tribute to the ever-growing diversity of the Brooklyn campus of St. Joseph's College—truly an international institution of higher education and varied cultures.

Now that's a lot of bull! For the first time in its history, St. Joseph's College brought a mechanical bull to campus--and Kim Donovan found out the hard way that it's not so easy to ride. Fortunately, there was a nice soft landing for her and anyone else brave enough to try their luck on 'el toro' (photo left).

Each year, the Strawberry Fest is a part of the Spring Carnival or the International Festival as it is now known. Pastries, pies, smoothies, daquiris--all things strawberry come to campus during the Fest (photo below).

From the islands of the Caribbean comes the limbo. How low can you go? That depends on how agile you are--and how much damage you wanted to do to your lumbar spine! Lots of students tried to go under the limbo stick; only a few made it all the way (photo above).

Cha cha or a variant of that party favorite--the electric slide? Maybe it's the reason they call it the cha cha slide (left).

One, two, three--KICK! Doing the conga doesn't require a lot of steps. All the rage during the 1930s and 1940s when it was first imported from Brazil, the dance's popularity was revived by the Miami Sound Machine, and it became a staple at parties (photo above).

What would an event at SJC be without the gang from Evodio's Place cooking and serving great food? (photo left).

It may look painful, but for those who have donated, the process is brief--and surprisingly easy (photo below).

Even after donating a pint of blood, Christine Indart and Catherine Muldoon can smile about the experience (photo right).

I feel that giving blood is a way to help others who are in need. I know how much even the smallest amount of blood can help, and I want to help as much as I can. I feel very good about myself and very happy when I know that I have helped someone in need. It's not a lot to ask of someone--to help others, and it is not painful or inconvenient at all. I will continue to give blood in the future.

—Christina Indart

Giving blood is a personal thing for many of the donors who decide to go through the process. I've given blood now for several years. I think it's a worthy thing to do and I know that my blood will be used to help others in need. Who knows? Maybe someday I will have a need for blood and because other generous people were willing to help out in drives such as this, it will be there for me when I need it the most.

—Catherine Muldoon

Pints and pints of blood are placed in coolers and are ready for shipment to area hospitals. The two day drive at St. Joseph's College (held twice a year), provides nearly a hundred pints of blood for the metropolitan area—a great tribute to the willingness of the SJC community to help others (photo right).

BLOOD DRIVE

Five for one. No, those aren't odds on a horserace or basketball game. It represents the number of people that can be helped with a single pint of blood. It's also a number that SJC students and faculty members are well aware of when they decide to participate in one or both of the college's annual blood drives. Sponsored by the Science Club and run by the New York Blood Center, local drives such as SJC's keep the blood supply in the metropolitan area at levels necessary to provide for hospitals and the daily procedures they perform.

That need is ongoing. The shelf life of a pint of blood is relatively brief and so the supply must be replenished on a daily basis. Without schools like SJC conducting its blood drives, New York City and its environs would almost immediately experience critical shortages of blood.

The entire process lasts about ten or twelve minutes. After a bit of rest, donors return to their routine, and go to their next class.

The highly trained technicians from the New York Blood Center interview every candidate to determine eligibility for giving blood. A finger stick later, and donors are ready to roll up their sleeves and donate a pint of blood (photo left).

It takes a little bit of paperwork before you are allowed to donate blood. A questionnaire about current state of health and prior conditions is required. The form also states the restrictions and disqualifications on giving blood (photo above).

Just some of the many student leaders who were recognized for their contributions to their particular clubs or activities. Each of the students received both a certificate of recognition and a gift from their activity specially chosen for its appropriateness (photo right).

Leadership Luncheon

April, as T.S. Eliot suggested, might be the cruelest month, but it was also a bountiful one for the numerous SJC students who were recognized for their leadership abilities and dedication to student activities. The Leadership Luncheon was held at the lushly appointed Dyker Beach Golf Club in Brooklyn and was attended by several hundred students, parents, family members and college staff who came to see this important recognition event.

"It's about serving your school and being willing to go the extra distance to make sure your activity doesn't just survive--but thrives in a time when too many students don't find the time to participate," said senior leadership award winner Jaclyn Verbil.

Presented by SGA and the Alumni Association, distinguished alumni Virginia O'Rourke and Michael McGrann were also recognized for their contributions to the Alumni Association and its close ties with the current undergraduate and graduate programs.

Dyker Beach Golf Club provided a sumptuous buffet lunch including beverages and desserts that left all who attended sated and happy.

But happiest of all were those future leaders who saw that their labors were formally recognized and that all their hard work had paid off in the end.

College president S. Elizabeth Hill greets the many award winners and their parents and congratulates them on their achievements at SJC. S. Elizabeth pointed out that their dedication to activities is one reason SJC is the great place to learn that is is (photo far right).

Retiring (and graduating) Student Government president Jackie Collins welcomes the award winners and offers some thoughts on those students who actively participate in the programs the college offers (photo near right).

Captured Moments

Javier Bosque and Teresa Mangan proudly display the awards they received for their service to the Student Athletic Advisory Committee (photo left).

Alumni recognition award winner Virginia O'Rourke and Michael McGrann with a small token of appreciation for a tremendously time-consuming job (photo below).

Junior Jackie Verbil's family has seen her recognized for three years as editor-in-chief of SJC's two major publications; The Spirit and Footprints (photo middle left).

All honorees and their guests also received a handsome globe to commemorate a special day of recognition that they earned through their endless hard work (photo above).

There was certainly no want of food at the Leadership Luncheon as the Dyker Beach Golf Club pulled out all the stops to keep the students and their guests happy--and full (photo left).

Senior Will Exantus fills out a job questionnaire at one of the many recruiting booths at the job fair. For seniors, finding a job--any job--in the current economic climate may prove to be very challenging (photo right).

Nyima Njie asks questions of one of the recruiters at the Job Fair. The Fair is step one to filing a job application and hopefully getting an interview. Recruiters stressed the importance of a strong resume and cover letter to impress Human Resources hiring managers (photo below).

I found that there was a wide variety of internships being advertised at the Job Fair. But when it comes to actually getting a job, I think the chances are really minimal. I applied for many jobs in the private sector, and to be completely honest, there were none available in my field outside of the school. This will be very difficult.

—Charlette Anyango Lopez

I thought that the Job Fair was good for both the upperclassmen and the lowerclassmen. For the lowerclassmen, it gave them a chance to see what they could use towards their major. For the seniors, it gave them a chance to possibly get a start on a career by seeing what is available in the outside world.

—Stacey Cius

The New York City Police Department was represented at the fair, offering interested students advice on the required examination and the benefits available to NYPD officers (photo below).

Job and Internship Fair

The numbers are still quite frightening: for every job available in New York City in 2009, there are six applicants for that job.

Connecting with prospective employers, knowing what they are looking for and somehow getting an interview is one of the most daunting hurdles in finding a job. The Job and Internship Fair, run by the Office of Career Counseling, Wellness and Disability Services, brings together nearly forty corporations, civil service organizations and local civic groups who are looking for new employees and interns.

Organized by Frank LaTerra and Lilly Shmulevich, the Job and Internship Fair allows students of all classes to speak to recruiters and find out what they are looking for in terms of majors, skill packages and training, so that they can be prepared when applying for jobs.

"I encourage all my students to actively seek internships, because they look great on a resume and often dovetail with what a student wants to do," said Dr. Howard Weiner, who teaches the Communication for Professionals course at SJC.

Federal, state and city departments and bureaus such as the NYPD and Homeland Security sent recruiters to the fair and because of the stability of civil service jobs, they were popular stops for students, particularly seniors.

"I'm only a freshman, but I think that it's never too early to start seeing what job availability is like, or to look for a good internship," said Maureen Saintilus.

Numbers may not improve, but Job Fairs can help beat the odds.

Never hurts to write down what you learn at a job fair. Khusbu Khadka and Joelle Etienne take notes as they listen intently to a recruiter (photo above).

Lilly Shmulevich of the Office of Career Development signs in students and directs them to the many recruiters (photo left).

Recruiters from the Department of Homeland Security speak to senior Mike Dziewit about job possibilities (photo far left).

Christina Indart displays one of the creative cupcakes made during the First Annual Cupcake Decorating Contest. Three winners were selected and received prizes but Christina got to eat one of the cupcakes, candy eyeballs and all (photo right).

Even a costumed Christian Branch doesn't seem to be able to frighten away a pair of admirers: Nikki Frederick and Motanou Koffi. His costume, something between Freddy Kruger and a mad monk, was a big hit at the party (photo below).

It looks like Sergeant Rock took the day off from Easy Company. Or maybe that's just Cadina Hicks showing off her latest dance moves (photo above).

Can't hide behind those sunglasses. Justin Burke and Sean Dorso are channeling Belushi and Ackroyd as the Blues Brothers (photo above).

Is that an updated version of the 'bump' we see? A witchy Crystal Tejada, and Jaclyn Collins as Quailman from Doug seem to have all the steps down (photo right).

On Halloween, all the campus demons and goblins show up for what turns out to be....

A Ghostly Good Time

For good seasonal fun, you just can't beat the annual St. Joseph's College Halloween Party.

Held in Evodio's place in McEntegart Hall, the Common Hour event features a variety of spooky activities to appeal to even the most unbelieving of attendees.

This year, in place of the pumpkin-carving contest, the party featured a cupcake-decorating contest and a mummy-making contest, won by Shasta Spicer and Nyima Njie.

It wouldn't be Halloween without a costume competition, and first prize went to Marissa Scacaloss, who dressed as Bjork in her infamous outfit from the 2001 Academy Awards.

Add in all the seasonal candy you could eat, appropriately scary decorations, and music provided by DJ Royale, and you had the makings of a much-anticipated fall event.

Sponsored by CAB, the Halloween Party continues to be a favorite fall tradition at SJC.

No costume? No problem. For Justine Guastella, Viki Curran, Alyson Chiamonte and Jason Ianozzi, it was just a time to hang with friends and relax (photo above).

Who's behind the Cheshire Cat mask? It's none other than Michele Corsetti of the Office of Student Life, proving that coming in costume was not limited to students (photo left).

Scary--or What?

■ I liked it because this was different from most of the other Halloween parties I have been to.
--Shemika Thomas

■ This was fun and a very entertaining day. It kept my attention throughout the whole afternoon.
--Justine Mendez

■ Everything about the Halloween Party was put together very well and I had a lot of fun at it.
--Kim Ponce

■ I really had a great time. I enjoyed the music and all the candy. It was all planned out very well.
--Robin Darville

■ I had a lot of fun and I thought that the people that came were very creative with their costumes.
--Leah Hampton

■ There were a lot of great activities at the Halloween Party and the snacks were all very good too.
--Christine Ghaney

Lament for a Moonwalker, a tribute to Michael Jackson, choreographed to the tune of "Billy Jean" danced by Patricia Garcia, Jennifer Hines, Victoria Yacano, Leslie Hernandez, Kayla Johnson and Maureen Saintilus (photo above).

A dance to the tune of "On Your Shore" was a solo number for Christina Santamaria. The song, by Charlotte Martin, was choreographed by guest choreographer Paula Santamaria Baretta (photo right).

Dance Lecturer, choreographer and Moderator of the Dance Club, Stacey Temple, greets the audience and introduces the numbers in the Dance Journeys program. Ms. Temple is also the Chairperson of the Council of the Arts at St. Joseph's College (photo above).

Dafali Wali, the Drum of Love, danced by Lorena Morales, Jessica Jeudy, Patricia Garcia and Ashley Killian. The Indian dance was choreographed by guest Choreographer Mohini Kavita Tajeshwar (photo left).

Sina Surace, Ashley Kilian and Patricia Garcia performed a modern dance to the melody of Beyonce Knowles' hit, "Smash Into You." The modern dance number was also choreographed by Ashley Kilian (photo below left).

Charlotte Lopez choreographed a Spanish dance entitled Son of the Moon by Mecano. Danced by Leslie Hernandez, Sina Surace and Alyssa Fleischman, the song is about a legend of a gypsy woman who implores the moon to allow her to marry a gypsy man. The moon agrees, but she must bear him a son--the son of the moon (photo below).

Invitation to the Dance

The strong and vital tradition of dance at St. Joseph's College was in evidence during the fall semester as the Dance Club presented "Dance Journeys," a program of dance with a distinct international flavor. India, Ireland, Latin America and the United States were represented on a program that took the audience to various parts of the world and showed off dance styles from each of them.

Under the direction of Lecturer in Dance and Dance Club Moderator Stacey Temple, the club continues to explore new and exciting dance styles and original choreography representative of numerous cultures.

Guest choreographers for the performance included Jeremy Lardieri, Mohini Kavita Tajeshwar, Paula Santamaria Barretta, and SJC's own Jaime Vacca-Hoefner, who was the choreographer for a number from the Broadway Musical Big entitled "Cross the Line."

Particularly moving was the tribute to Michael Jackson entitled Lament for a Moonwalker danced to the late superstar's hits, "Billy Jean" and "Change."

Ms. Temple continues to offer opportunities for club members to expand their dance talents by choreographing their own numbers and learning even more intricacies of the artform of the dance.

BBQ Snaps

Elaine Ching Hua Tsai poses for a comical caricature at the barbecue (photo above).

Friends caught up with each other and learned all the news that transpired over the summer break (photo above).

For the daring, temporary Mehendi tattoos were available, applied by a professional artist (photo above).

Always ready to serve, the gang from Evodio's Place kept the burgers flying off the grill to feed the many PGS students who joined the fun at the BBQ (photo above).

It was a splendid fall day for a barbecue on the mall outside of Dillon Center--and PGS students took full advantage of it to celebrate returning to school (photo top).

Almost as good as seeing your name in lights was seeing it made into an artistic banner (photo above).

PGS Parties Down

Who said adults don't know how to have fun? Evidently they weren't at the Professional and Graduate School's Welcome Back Barbecue in September of 2009.

Both undergrad and grad students turned out for an afternoon of food, friends and fun on the mall in front of the Dillon Center.

Evodio's Place provided the food and beverages, and they kept the burgers hot and tasty right off of the grill.

The afternoon also featured a sketch artist who created some fun caricatures, a henna tattoo artist and an artist who provided personalized signs for students and staff members.

Most of the PGS students had not seen each other for the entire summer vacation, so the barbecue offered them ample opportunity to catch up with the news about each others' lives.

It was also a day to bring the kids to meet classmates and faculty and they willingly joined in the afternoon's fun.

It was fun, followed by the reality of a long academic term.

No rest for the weary. Associate Dean of PGS Linda Fonte attends to paperwork, even though she kicks her feet up and enjoys the Welcome Back Barbecue (photo above).

Barbecue Day was also family day for some of the PGS students and they brought along the kids to join in the food and fun. The Mall provided a perfect backdrop for the youngsters to expend some energy at play (photo left).

No, nobody really looks like that, (or so we think), but part of the fun of a caricature is to see how a professional artist isolates characteristics of his subject and emphasizes them in his impression of his subject (photo bottom right).

As Kendrick Chery looks on, Anselma Lopez and Yesenia Espinal enjoy some burgers right off the grill, compliments of Evodio's Place (photo far left below).

In a segment of the Fashion Show dedicated to using modern materials to create interesting styles, Stacey Cius created a new kind of 'bling.' She decorated her outfit with dinner forks--both a creative use of metal and a convenient way of alerting friends and family that she was headed to the dinner table (photo right).

Now here we have some really funky earmuffs--just what the well-dressed collegian needs. Apach Jay and Shadiyah Stevenson pair their earmuffs with some casual contemporary styles for everyday use (photo above).

In yet another ingenious utilization of modern materials as a fashion application, Yeisla Ferrer accented her outfit with Federal Express wrapping tape. The rolling pin? Perhaps it is a warning to FedEx delivery personnel to handle packages with care (photo right).

Fashion Show

It's one thing to throw on some new clothes, walk down a runway and say that you are a model. But for members of the SJC Fashion Club, it goes far beyond that.

For their fall fashion show held in the auditorium of Tuohy Hall, the club members designed and created their own outfits, each tailored to a different artistic segment of the program.

For the Modern Materials portion of the show, members got very creative and used metals, plastics and other unlikely objects to show what fashions of the future might look like.

There was also plenty of room for the models to highlight modern fashions, again, many of which they designed themselves.

To a program of contemporary sounds, the models--male and female--walked the runway like the world famous models of Fashion Week in New York City do, impressing the crowd with their grace, attitude and inventiveness. Fashion has never looked so good on the St. Joseph's campus.

Is that the Batusi? Syvine Grant looks stunning in a butterfly creation that seems ready to fly away with her (photo above).

Once again Hannah Darnell struts her stuff on the runway in an outfit of her own creation (photo above).

Fashion Plates

Hannah Darnell recalls the days of flower power and the Summer of Love in her neo love-child outfit.

In traditional outfits, Irish step dancers Danielle Rothschild and Lisa Murphy demonstrate their fancy footwork.

Backstage, Danitza Nicolas gets a last minute make-up touch up before she takes her turn on the runway.

Vox Populi

How will the economy affect your plans after you graduate?

The best and worst of times, as Dickens so succinctly put it. Best, because earning a degree is such a major step. But worst, because the outlook for graduates in the workplace is at best, grim. Though numbers might be getting slightly better, the state of America's economy has forced graduating students to consider their options as well as their choice of careers, since some jobs have been hit harder than others. The staff of Footprints 2010 decided that this year's Vox Populi (Voice of the People) should be dedicated to asking graduating seniors if they have had to alter their plans because of the job outlook in their careers of choice. Here are a selection of responses we received from PGS students who were preparing to graduate.

Students in the Professional and Graduate school got to know Lorenzo Hall very well. Advisement and administration for PGS was headquartered here (photo right).

You planned for your future through hard work and dedication—and much of that hard work took place in McEntegart Hall. Not only was it the school library, but it housed classrooms, computer rooms and the Academic Center where many PGS students went for assistance in their coursework (photo above).

The Seniors Speak...

The economy hasn't affected my plans. I will continue to go to school until the economy turns around.

—Elaine Knight

I'm not too worried about it. I've been blessed with the chance to go to school and pursue my career.

—Ngina Pantan

I will do what I have to do to move my career forward, so I won't let the economy affect any of my plans.

—Erica Martins

With TAP, Pell grants and loans, I've gotten a break as far as tuition goes. So I will continue with my education.

—Shirley Montanez

Once you start school, you just can't stop, so I'm going to continue on. In time, the economy will turn for the better.

—Curtis Hopkins

I graduated last year, so with this economy, I'm again planning for the future and I will see what happens.

—Demetius Jones

I'm an accounting major and I feel I will always find work, so my plans haven't been altered at all thus far.

—Angela Blackett

My graduation plans have not changed. I am a nurse and will continue that while studying business administration.

—Margaret Rosensteel

At the Grad Fair in April, PGS students got to find out about graduate and professional programs from numerous graduate schools that came on campus to provide information for seniors. With the current economy, many students have opted for graduate school rather than struggle looking for a job until the employment numbers start looking better (photo left).

Orientation Leaders Naima Njie, Khusbu Khadka and Veronika Lysenko wait to meet their freshman groups and usher them through a day's activities (photo right).

Plenty to learn, but plenty of fun to be had as well, as the members of the Class of 2013 dance it up under the tent on the mall (photo below).

Freshman Jessica Pena shows off her name decorated in the ancient Chinese artform of name painting (photo middle above).

Senior Orientation Leader Ed Han wastes no time in making new friends amongst the incoming freshman class (photo above).

Freshmen go through their binders before the classroom segment of orientation begins to see what they have to know about SJC (photo, above).

Freshman Orientation

Four years ago, we all looked about the same as the freshmen of the Class of 2013: a little scared, a little lonely--and a lot flat-out lost.

But just as there were upperclassmen to help us through those first confusing days, we were out in force as Orientation Leaders to usher the Class of 2013 past the initial bumps in the road that come up in one's college education.

But in addition to helping the young SJC students understand some of the complexities of being an undergraduate, we were also there to show them how much fun they could have. To that end, the day was a carefully arranged combination of group activities, advisement sessions, icebreakers, and plain old fun. Games, dances--food and drink--they were all part of the Freshman Orientation Day experience.

We eased them into Day 1 of school--and remained a resource for them throughout the year.

Vice president Wynee Ganthier calls the Orientation Leaders onto stage for a round of applause from the freshmen for all their hard work during the long and busy day (photo top left).

In addition to learning their programs, freshmen come to grips with terms like majors, concentrations and credit hours during the Advisement portion of Orientation (left).

Yes, all the freshmen, including the he-men types, got to participate in the SJC Build-a-Bear activity during Orientation (photo above).

Representatives from all facets of the health industry came to Health Fair 2010 to give SJC students a chance to learn about the newest trends in preventive medicine, wellness and healthy living. Groups such as the American Cancer Society, the Kings County Hospital Center, the New York Blood Center and the TZU CHI Foundation provided useful information on a wide range of topics ranging from Zen meditation to programs to help young people stop smoking (photo below).

Health Fair

These days, you just can't be too healthy. With so many pollutants and foreign substances in our food supply, it pays to be aware of how to monitor and maintain your health.

On Wednesday, March 3, the Office of Career Development, Wellness and Disability Services held its annual Health Fair in Tuohy Hall. Using the theme "Healthy Mind, Healthy Body," sixteen different exhibitors were on hand to enlighten students and staff members about cancer awareness, sickle cell anemia, the dangers of smoking, the importance of donating blood and a variety of other health-related topics.

Members of the St. Joseph's community learned about the importance of relaxation techniques at the Tai Chi table and could even see a DVD on suicide prevention presented by the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention.

Representatives from SJC's Nursing Department spoke to students about RN programs and careers in the Health Services field, which are offered through the Professional and Graduate School. Organized by Frank LaTerra and Lilly Shmulevich, the annual Health Fair performs an important service on campus, keeping students and staff apprised of the latest trends in the health and wellness field.

Perennial visitor to the Health Fair is the American Cancer Society, possibly the major research and informational organization of its type in the country. Grace Young of the Admissions Department pays a visit to the booth (photo above).

A popular exhibit frequented by many students was the anti-smoking and smoking prevention table sponsored by Woodhull Hospital. Students were offered tips on quitting and shown graphic evidence of what happens to the body of smokers (photo above).

Jacqueline Johnson-Davis had a wealth of materials to give out about Sickle Cell Anemia, its effects upon the body, and its treatment protocols. The disease, which affects mainly African-Americans, is a major health issue today (photo above).

Michelle Green of the Professional and Graduate School's Nursing Department distributed information from the Sickle Cell and Thalassemia Patients Network to students who stopped by her booth (photo above).

Brooklyn's Woodhull Hospital Center was one of the displayers at the Health Fair. Jose Aguilar meets SJC's Jonathan Nover from the Professional and Graduate School and discusses the hospital's many services (photo above).

A new exhibitor this year was the Moy Yee Kung Fu School of Brooklyn which put on Tai Chi and Chi Gong demonstrations. They also offered important relaxation techniques to harried students and staff members alike (photo above).

The Urban Bushwomen paid their second visit to St. Joseph's College for a Common Hour show. They brought their unique blend of street philosophy, music, dance and movement to the very popular performance (photo top right).

Some of the charter members of the new chapter of Kappa Delta Pi National Education Honor Society stand before the insignia of the organization. KDP is the largest educational honor society in America (photo middle right).

Academic Dean S. Margaret Buckley works the room and gets a rise out of the crowd at a gathering to honor students who have earned their Master of Arts degree in Literacy and Cognition (photo bottom right).

Vice president for Enrollment Management Theresa LaRocca Meyer received an award for Educational Excellence (above top).

Finalists in St. Joseph's College's annual speech competition gather with their adviser (photo bottom above).

Now that's some kind of tap dancing! In May of 2010, Tuohy Hall was the scene of an exhibition of Flamenco dancing. In traditional costumes, the dancers demonstrated the intricacies of the Spanish artform (left).

Another example of SJC's cultural diversity programs was a Chinese opera presented on stage in Tuohy Hall in February of 2010. The centuries old artform was new to most students.

Odds n' Ends

To include--or not to include. Always a tough decision for the editors of Footprints.

With so many activities occurring at the college (scarcely a week went by without two or three major events or Common Hour programs), and with such severe limitations on space, it is never easy to decide what gets a full spread, and what can only be mentioned in passing.

Rising to the challenge, the editors selected a variety of things that happened at SJC during the 2009-2010 year.

But at a busy place like SJC, at best, we could only hope to present a small sampling.

On several occasions during the term, students were treated to 'Gallery Talks' sponsored by the Council for the Arts. At these evening get-togethers, students got to meet the artists and discuss their work close up and personal (photo right).

Congressman Edolphus Towns addressed a common hour audience about the importance of serving one's community. He later secured a $400,000 grant for SJC to purchase new computer equipment for both campuses (photo above).

Seniors Say...

It's difficult to condense four years into a single thought, or select a single thing that we will miss the most about our alma mater. But the editors of Footprints 2010 thought it might be interesting to take a small sampling survey to see the kinds of things seniors would miss the most once graduation comes.

The diversity of responses is an indication that SJC was many things to many people.

What single thing will you miss most about St. Joseph's College after you graduate?

It's probably the first and last thing we will see when we think about St. Joseph's College--the entrance to Tuohy Hall where so many of our fond memories were made. Our classes, our activities, our friends--they all happened in the 245 building (photo right).

The one thing I will miss the most are all the friendly faces that I would pass in the hallways each day.

—Sade Peter

I'm going to miss the interaction that I had with all of my teammates in the SJC athletic program.

—Mike Dziewit

I will miss Work Study. The friendships that I made and the work environment felt like family to me.
 —Daphney Etienne

I will miss my best friend, Lew Monaco. After graduation, I won't be able to see him as often.
 —Lawrence Fawcett

I will miss extracurricular activities. The most growth came from learning things outside the classroom.
 —Shaniqua Smith

I had a lot of fun working with Dr. Weiner on publications and I learned a lot. That's what I will miss the most.
 —Marsha Desrosiers

When I won the vice-presidency of SGA, I felt like I was on top. That feeling I will miss more than anything.
 —Wynnee Ganthier

During my free time I had the chance to be creative. I will miss that when I start graduate school.
 —Sally Demosthene

I will most of all miss the feeling that St. Joseph's was a very small community and felt like a family.
 —Huldah Charles

Most of all I will miss the fun I had at Common Hour events which were entertaining and had great food.
 —Wilkerson Exantus

St. Joseph's was like a second home to me, and I am going to miss all the advantages of having a second home.
 —Regina Normil

Senior Class Representative Huldah Charles made the opening remarks to her classmates and their families to begin the Senior Night Program (photo top right).

Senior Night is always a time for proud parents, relatives and friends to gather together in order to celebrate the arrival at the end of four years of college for their sons and daughters (photo middle right).

Athletic Director Frank Carbone has to look 'up' to one of his star senior athletes, Mike Dziewit, a mainstay of the varsity Men's Basketball Team for his entire stay at St. Joseph's College (photo bottom right).

Professor Michael Hanophy was the keynote speaker at Senior Night and he shared some of his own college memories with the Class of 2010. He stressed the idea that the college experiences that we have often shape the future in ways we do not always recognize at the time they are happening (photo above).

With just a few chances left to be together, seniors Marsha Desrosiers, Lisa Trinidad and Daphney Etienne came together to enjoy the festivities of Senior Night (photo left).

Kajal Dalal receives the Wall Street Journal Award for Excellence in Business Subjects from Professor John Capela (photo below).

SENIOR NIGHT

A time of great joy and celebration! May 14th--Senior Night, saw the Class of 2010 at their last major class event before graduation. Along with parents and relatives, the Seniors partied, enjoyed a banquet meal and were honored for their many achievements as St.

Joseph's College students. Select Seniors received their "Who's Who in American Colleges" awards and others received specific leadership and subject-oriented awards. By night's end, graduation was only a few more short steps towards the horizon, and then-life would begin in earnest.

Senior Christina Santamaria performed a modern dance during the entertainment portion of the program (photo above).

A sure sign that the end was in sight was the distribution of graduation caps and gowns during Senior Night. In just a few weeks, it would all be over (photo left).

Hors d'ouvres anyone? There were plenty of those as well as a full banquet dinner for guests at the Spring Formal. World famous for its food service and preparation, no one went home hungry from T-O-P! (photo above).

A view from the top. A spectacular view of the New York State World's Fair grounds, featuring the Unisphere--symbol of the 1964-65 fair. The open air terraces off of the ballroom afforded majestic views of the New York City skyline. No wonder Terrace on the Park is one of the most popular catering venues in the city (photo top).

Beauties on the roof! A group of seniors get together for a photo-op on the outdoor terrace of Terrace on the Park with Flushing Meadow Park as a backdrop (photo above).

Now you see them, now you don't! Senior Edward Han and his date play peek-a-boo around a topiary in the upstairs lobby of Terrace on the Park (photo opposite top right).

Spring Formal

Spring is the season for many events at St. Joseph's College, and one of the most highly anticipated is the Spring Formal. This year's formal took place at Terrace on the Park in Flushing Meadows, Queens, site of the 1964-65 World's Fair. Great food, great views, and the company of friends, classmates, faculty and staff contributed to the evening's success.

Spring Formal is a chance for the entire SJC community to put on their finery and have a special evening in celebration of the end of the long academic year.

Planned by the Student Government Association, the formal is a way to bring together the many different parts of the SJC

Brooklyn campus, including the School of Arts and Sciences and the Professional and Graduate School students.

It was more than just a terrific menu and great dancing music. It was a realization of the fact that Spring Formal means the school is in hailing distance of ending yet another year--and that's good enough reason to celebrate.

Wynee Ganthier, the 2009-2010 vice-president of the Student Government Association, greets the Spring Formal guests and offers a toast (photo above).

Dressed out in formal wear, Jessie Danboonreung and SGA president-elect Nina Zito enjoy the surroundings at Terrace on the Park (photo right).

A Commencement Album

The culmination of four years of hard work is commencement, a rite of passage for every student who has labored to achieve an undergraduate or graduate degree.

St. Joseph's College's 91st commencement was held at the storied Brooklyn Academy of Music on Wednesday, June 2, with W. Christian Drews, Esq., the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, presiding.

College President S. Elizabeth Hill

made the opening remarks welcoming the graduates and their families, which was followed by the Valedictory Address delivered this year by Mary O'Brien of the Professional and Graduate School (Class of 2010).

An honorary degree was conferred upon John Sexton, J.D., the president of New York University, for his contributions to higher education.

A second Valedictory Address was delivered by Kelly-Johanna Martin of the College of Arts and Sciences

(Class of 2010).

The awarding of degrees followed with Dr. Esther Berkowitz, Mary A. Chance, Dr. Barbara Sands, S. Margaret Buckley and Dr. Thomas Travis presenting the diplomas.

Virginia O'Rourke McLaughlin, president of the Alumni Association, then greeted the graduates and invited their participation in alumni events.

And then, for all the graduates, it was over, degrees in hand, ready to face the future.

Representing the College of Arts and Sciences, Kelly-Johanna Martin delivers the Valedictory address to the Class of 2010 (photo near right)

The first of two Valedictory Addresses was delivered by Mary O'Brien, representing the Professional and Graduate School (photo far right).

A view from on high. The fabled and world famous Brooklyn Academy of Music crowded with graduates, parents and dignitaries (photo left).

A staple at St. Joseph's College's commencement exercises, Dr. Michael Hanophy sings the "Star Spangled Banner" (photo far left).

Dr. John Sexton, Esq., receives an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree, conferred by S. Loretta McGrann and W. Christian Drewes, Esq., Chairman of the Board of Trustees of St. Joseph's College (photo left).

Rev. Christopher Coleman delivers the benediction at the conclusion of the commencement ceremony (photo left).

Andrea Rosado, a graduate of St. Joseph's College's Master's program, performs a musical selection entitled "This is My Now," written by Scott Krippaehne and Jeff Peabody. While an undergraduate, Andrea was a frequent performer in SJC artistic productions (photo above).

The importance of graduates staying in close contact with SJC was emphasized by Virginia O'Rourke McLaughlin (Class of 1962), who invited all graduates to join the Alumni Association and remain active (photo right).

The principal speaker for the commencement exercises was John Sexton, J.D., president of New York University. Dr. Sexton also received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from St. Joseph's College (photo above).

President of St. Joseph's College S. Elizabeth Hill greets the assembled graduates, their parents and family members and welcomes them to the 91st SJC commencement exercises (photo far left).

Four years--and the moment finally arrives. The graduates cross the stage, receive their diplomas and it becomes official: college is finally over (photo near left).

Who can be prouder than the parents and families of graduates on the day of commencement? A rose and a smile says it all--you've made it--and should be proud! (photo below left).

Justin Burke, SGA parliamentarian and flag bearer, accompanies Dr. Carol Hayes, Grand Marshal, who carries the college mace during the processional (photo bottom left).

And finally, here it is: what the struggle was all about--the diploma. The proud recipients of an SJC diploma are now ready to confront their futures and face the world (photo bottom right).

Senior Jessica Lintner demonstrates her proficiency in the breast stroke in one of the fledgling Swimming Team's meets in 2010. The newest SJC team has already made its mark in the Hudson Valley Women's Athletic Conference by posting wins in several different events in swim meets. The popular team has grown from club status to NCAA III membership in just two short years (photo above).

Multi-talented and multi-varsity letter winner Edward Han demonstrates his Cross Country Team stamina in a 5K run in Prospect Park. During his career, he also lettered in Golf, Men's Volleyball and Men's Tennis. He is one of the few 4-letter performers in the history of St. Joseph's College athletics (photo above).

Elizabeth Shea buckets two from the foul line in a crucial game against Keystone College. The Lady Bears Basketball Team would go on to win the HVWAC Conference Championship for the 2009-2010 season adding to the long list of SJC championship-winning teams (photo above).

Sports

The future is looking mighty decent for St. Joseph's College. Just six years ago, there were but a handful of teams available to SJC students--mostly for female students. But now, the college has eleven teams and is a bona fide member of Division III of the NCAA. It continues to churn out championships in a variety of sports with regularity and because of its success, recruiting has become much easier. There is now even talk of expanding the sports program to include a Women's Soccer Team. Yes, the future will bring great things to SJC athletics.

K eith Juricich out of San Mateo, California, was the only SJC starting pitcher with an earned run average under 4.00. His 3.38 ERA went along with his team leading .227 opposing hitters batting average and his 25.1 innings pitched (photo below).

S ophomore slugger Keven Diaz connects for one of his six homers. He had a massive .412 batting average and an almost too-high-to-believe .718 slugging percentage to go with his .500 on base percentage. He led the team in five offensive categories (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's	Opponent
14	Mt. Saint Vincent
5	Mt. Saint Vincent
14	John Jay College
4	Emerson College
19	Emerson College
0	NJ City University
3	NJ City University
3	Rutgers-Camden
5	U. of Maine-Presque
1	Ramapo College
0	Menlo College
4	Menlo College
2	Menlo College
0	Menlo College
6	Academy of Art
6	Academy of Art
15	Lehman College
10	Lehman College
1	Drew University
15	Gallaudet University
22	Gallaudet University
5	CSI
1	CSI
3	Briarcliffe College
16	Baruch College
1	Old Westbury
1	Old Westbury
5	USMMA
9	Apprentice School
9	Yeshiva University
15	Yeshiva University

Head Coach Scott Lusche

S ophomore Joe Boccia out of Westwood, New Jersey, led the team in assists with 51 and also led the team in runs scored with 23, to go with his .329 batting average. The shortstop/second baseman also had an on base percentage of .404 (photo right).

Baseball

First, the good news. If you look at the individual records of the SJC Baseball Team, you would get the feeling that they had a fine season.

Heavy hitting Kevin Diaz led in many offensive categories such as batting average (.412), OBP (.500), total bases (61) and home runs (6). Only a sophomore, Diaz represents the future for SJC baseball.

Not far behind him statistically was senior Chris Davidson, whose numbers were just about as impressive.

Power pitcher Keith Juricich had an ERA of 3.38 with two wins under his belt. Opposing batters only hit .227 off of him.

But the reality, and the bad news, is that the good hitting and good pitching didn't always happen on the same days. On 19 occasions, opponents scored in double digits off of Bear pitching--and three times they totaled 20+ runs.

This probably accounts for the Bears overall 10-21 record. It was a season of ups and downs, but varsity baseball is still a relatively new sport on campus, and with the many youngsters on the team, indicators for future success are looking mighty positive.

Kneeling: Danny Zaretsky, Kevin Hernandez, Joe Geloso, Joseph Boccia, Paul Piccirillo, John Porcelli, Joe Saez. Standing: Scott Losche, Head Coach, Jerry Sidman, Assistant Coach, Raymond Morales, Danny Contant, Thomas Agostino, Anthony Langone, Joe Chiusaano, Chris Davidson, Jon Mendez, Keith Juricich, Kevin Diaz, Jason Ianozzi, Alvaro Quinones, Mykelle Cortez, Nolan Smith, Thoma Karasinski, Jack Hans, Assistant Coach, Chris Cofey, Joe Horton

Freshman outfielder Thomas Karasinski narrowly misses breaking up a double play at second base. In limited playing time, he had a .375 batting average (photo above).

Thomas Karasinski out of New Dorp High School in Staten Island makes a 3 point shot. During the course of the season, he had a total of 10 three pointers to his credit while only averaging 9.5 minutes per game (photo below).

Big Ismael Dabo (and at 6' 6" we mean big), towers over two defenders from Keystone College as he buckets a two-pointer. Only a freshman, the center out of St. John's Prep has a big future ahead of him when he gains more playing time (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's OPPONENT

54	NJIT	96
78	Philadelphia Bible	51
58	Widener	112
50	Regis	83
34	Maritime of NY	76
48	NJCU	73
71	Lehman	78
72	Rutgers-Camden	96
78	St. Joseph's -L.I.	105
57	Keystone College	88
59	City Tech.	78
78	Vaughn	57
102	Southern Maine	111
53	Trinity (Conn.)	72
70	Berkeley	69
65	Culinary Institute	42
61	Lancaster Bible	80
89	CCNY	88
80	Sarah Lawrence	51
91	Albany Pharmacy	80
77	Brooklyn College	95
82	Mount St. Vincent	88
82	Pratt Institute	51
59	CSI	87
73	Culinary Institute	58
78	Vaughn	64

Head Coach Joseph Cocozello

Double zero Jon Matzelle, a junior out of St. Francis Prep in Queens led the Bears in 9 separate offensive and defensive categories, including blocked shots and scoring. His .406 Field Goal percentage was second on the team. He drives around a defender in a conference game (photo right).

Men's Basketball

It is possible that stranger things have happened in the past. Consider the facts: the SJC Bears Men's Basketball Team finishes season play with a sub-.500 10-16 record. They lose 16 of 20 non-conference games, and at one point in the season, they lost 9 games in a row--and 10 of their first 11. Now, consider the rest of it: the team goes 6-0 in conference play--and winds up winning the Hudson Valley Men's Athletic Conference championship! In the finals of the HVMAC tournament, the Bears defeated Vaughn College 78-62 to take the conference title.

Strange? Perhaps, but after all, the team placed three players on the 2009-10 All-Conference Team: Lew Monaco, Jon Matzelle and Justin Gist. And despite the team's record, Head Coach Joseph Cocozello was named 2009-10 Coach of the Year.

It was the second time that the Bears had been tournament champions. They have also been conference champions on five separate occasions.

Junior forward Jon Matzelle led the team in 9 separate categories offensively and defensively, and senior Mike Dziewit closed out his SJC career scoring 15 points and grabbing 7 rebounds in the conference championship game.

Back Row: Assistant Coach Lukasz Cygan, Assistant Coach Luke Klimaszewski, Lew Monaco, Larry Fawcett, Mike Dziewit, Ismael Dabo, Wilkerson Exantus, Antoine Forehand, Head Coach Joe Cocozello.

Front Row: Jon Matzelle, Thomas Karasinski, Pat Chiarel, Cesar Medera, Dominic Orlando, Dhiraj Bhakta.

Speedy Antoine Forehand, a sophomore guard out of Rice, zips around a defender as he drives downcourt for a score. Forehand led the team with 69 assists for the year.

Sophomore forward Kristin Binckes goes up and over two Keystone College defenders for two points from the middle of the key. The young Lady Bear scored a total of 115 points for the season in limited playing time (photo below).

It's a struggle for the ball and Lady Bear Joanna Marciniak, a sophomore guard, comes out on top. Starting only half of the SJC games this season, she still managed 96 rebounds in total in only 16 minutes of play per game on average (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's	Opponent
80	Yeshiva 56
69	Penn State Altoona 82
50	Christendom 27
45	Saint Elizabeth 67
32	UMass Boston 47
66	Fisher 45
64	Southern Vermont 39
46	Brooklyn College 77
49	St. Joseph's LI 50
68	NJCU 75
61	Old Westbury 63
66	La Sierra 58
39	Whittier 70
66	Keystone 88
73	City Tech 62
75	Southern Maine CC 45
51	Albertus Magnus 83
81	Yerk (CUNY) 73
42	Staten Island 51
69	Lancaster Bible 52
69	New Rochelle 27
71	Albany Pharmacy 61
72	Briarcliffe 57
56	Christendom 20
74	Apprentice 75
59	New Rochelle 28
56	Albany Pharmacy 53
45	U of Cincinnati 49
76	Penn State Fayette 60
40	St. Mary-of-Woods 55

Head Coach Frank Carbone

Defense, defense, defense was the key to the Lady Bears' strong performance in 2009-10. Freshman guard Stephanie Quick proves true to her name as she sprints downcourt to cover the defensive boards. She totaled 28 rebounds in very limited playing time (photo right).

Women's Basketball

Never let it be said that miracles can't happen. Consider the season that the Lady Bears Basketball Team had in 2009-10. The team turned in an overall 16-14 record and went 4-2 in conference play. Their non-conference record was a middling 12-12.

But when the chips were down in the Hudson Valley Women's Athletic Conference tournament, the stars all aligned for St. Joseph's--and the Lady Bears won the conference title for the first time since 2006, defeating Albany College of Pharmacy in the finals by a score of 56-53. It took two free throws by team star Ashley McQuillan in the last 33 seconds to ice the victory, and for her efforts, she was named MVP of the HVWAC Tournament.

She also had 9 games during the season in which she scored more than 20 points--and she led the team in 12 separate scoring and defensive categories during the season.

Julia Serewko was another standout player for the Lady Bears, grabbing 131 offensive rebounds and another 98 on defense.

For Athletic Director and Head Coach Frank Carbone, he was thrilled to see the conference trophy return to SJC--where it belongs.

Back Row: Assistant Coach Annamarie Ciorciari, Allison Kavanagh, Joanne Crimeni, Julia Serewko, Kristin Binckes, Janine Doran, Head Coach Frank Carbone.
Front Row: Joanna Marciniak, Tara Gleason, Ashley McQuillan, Teresa Mangan, Caitlyn Kakavas, Stephanie Quick.

Ashley McQuillan dribbles around a defender in a crucial conference game. She led the Lady Bears in scoring with an average of 14.6 points per game (photo above).

Victoria Curran, Yliane Ulloa and Kathleen McCarthy are poised and ready to return a serve in a match against City Tech. The trio had 35, 87 and 104 kills respectively, and were mainstays of the Lady Bear's defense (photo below).

Rookie Kathleen McCarthy evades a blocker and makes a kill shot. Though a junior, it was her first year playing varsity volleyball for the Lady Bears--and she earned All-Conference honors in the process! (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's Opponent

3	Yeshiva	0
0	Chestnut Hill	3
0	College of Notre Dame	3
3	Cooper Union	1
3	City Tech	0
2	Brooklyn College	3
0	Sarah Lawrence	3
0	York College CUNY	3
0	Lehman College	3
0	William Patterson	3
0	New Rochelle	3
1	Pratt Institute	3
0	St. Joseph's LI	3
0	CSI	3
0	Old Westbury	3
1	Brooklyn College	3
0	Mount St. Vincent	3
2	Medgar Evers	3
0	Purchase College	3
2	Medgar Evers	3

Head Coach Kathleen O'Neill

A huge vertical leap by Yliane Ulloa and it's another point for the Lady Bears. In the air or on the ground, Yliane is one of the team's stars. In addition to her 87 kills, she also posted 89 digs on the season, third best on the team (photo right).

Women's Volleyball

To a proud team that was regarded as the scourge of its conference, the 2009-2010 season can only be regarded as atypical.

In this 'lost season,' the Lady Bears Volleyball Team saw itself on the wrong end of a 3-17 record, by far the poorest showing in years. The team's record in the conference was only 1-3, and at one point in the season, the Lady Bears had a record of 0-15.

So what happened? Every athletic team goes through cycles and years when rebuilding an entire program becomes a necessity caused by graduation of seniors.

This year's incarnation of the Lady Bears had no seniors on the team roster. Four players were either sophomores or freshmen, and the balance of the team consisted of juniors. Cohesiveness in athletics comes with playing together and learning to anticipate a teammate's moves. This comes only through time--and not necessarily a single season's play.

Should the squad stay together, they will all be veterans with a year of tough conference play under their belts, which should make them ready for 2010-2011.

Back Row: Kathleen McCarthy, Christine Indart, Assistant Coach C.J. Kavanagh, Head Coach Kathleen O'Neill, Assistant Coach Kristin Wulff, Lauren Norris, Yliane Ulloa.
Front Row: Emily Spence, Victoria Curran, Melissa Pogon.

A few words of encouragement and advice about strategy, and the Lady Bears are ready to take the court against Cooper Union--a match they won by a score of 3-1 (photo above).

Team leading setter Muhammad Ali Bhatti totaled 129 sets for the 2010 season. The sophomore out of James Madison High School also had 129 digs for the campaign. He is viewed as one of the future stars of the SJC Men's Volleyball program (photo below).

Tough conference opponent Brooklyn College might have won the match, but on this play, junior Mike Modugno out of St. John's Prep. prevailed. In limited playing time, he had 10 blocked shots and was third on the team in sets with 53 (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's	Opponent
0	Purchase College	3
3	Albertus Magnus	0
0	Yeshiva University	3
0	Cooper Union	3
0	SUNY Maritime	3
0	City Tech	3
0	Medgar Evers	3
0	NYU Poly	3
0	York College	3
0	Brooklyn College	3
1	Webb Institute	3
1	Medgar Evers	3
1	Regis College	3
0	Lehman College	3
0	Cooper Union	3
1	Webb Institute	3
0	Yeshiva University	3
0	Webb Institute	3

Head Coach Barbara Cwiekala

It takes teamwork! Senior Edward Han and sophomore Maciej Sadowski rise to the occasion to block a shot against Medgar Evers College. Han, a four letter athlete at SJC, graduated in June, playing his last match as a Bear Volleyballer in the HVMAC tournament (photo right).

Men's Volleyball

W hen a team goes 1-17 on the season and 0-3 in conference play, it's hard to come away with positives.

But for second year Head Coach Barbara Cwiekala, the 2010 season was as much a learning experience for her as for the team. With only two seniors graduating, the squad is both relatively young and relatively new to HVMAC competition.

The fact that it showed in the team's results could not take away from the enthusiasm and energy that every player brought to the court each time they played.

And, in fact, there were individual team leaders who put up some impressive numbers on the season. Freshman Martin Torres led the team with 93 points and sophomore Maciej Sadowski had a team leading 18 blocked shots. Muhammad Ali Bhatti shared top honors in sets with 58 apiece, and Bhatti also led the team with 129 assists.

On the downside, the team averaged 3.6 errors per set on serve receptions, with a total of 208 for the season. To be competitive in the 2011 season, they will have to work on that aspect of their game.

And work they will. From here, things can only look up.

Back Row: Vincent Giglio, Assistant Coach, Barbara Cwiekala, Head Coach, Muhammad Ali Bhatti, Edward Han, Raymond Morales, Pat Chiarel, Kristen Wulff, Assistant Coach. Front Row: Kester Stephens, Maciej Sadowski, Martin Torres, Anthony Grasso.

Sophomore Maciej Sadowski out of Cathedral Prep. returns a ball against Albertus Magnus College in the Bear's only victory of the 2010 season (photo above).

Second baseman Jillian Troise, a sophomore out of Bishop Kearney High School, makes it look easy on a pop-up to the infield against City Tech. She maintained an .806 fielding percentage at the tricky infield position (photo below).

Sophomore Alyson Chiaramonte lead all starting pitchers with a 1.40 ERA. As a hitter, the powerful outfielder also carried a whopping .377 batting average and a .426 on base average as a multi-position player (photo right).

SCOREBOARD
St. Joseph's	Opponent
7	Albertus Magnus	6
16	Albertus Magnus	1
14	City Tech	0
14	City Tech	0
4	Edgewood College	2
9	Prairie State College	13
4	Edgewood College	5
6	Marian University	10
3	Prairie State College	4
6	Marian University	10
12	York College	4
10	York College	2
9	St. Joseph's (L.I.)	0
2	St. Joseph's (L.I.)	7
4	Mount St. Vincent	2
3	Mount St. Vincent	4
9	City Tech	0
15	City Tech	1
6	Briarcliffe College	7
0	Briarcliffe College	1
18	New Rochelle	0
10	New Rochelle	2
6	Old Westbury	0
0	Old Westbury	4
6	Brooklyn College	2
3	Brooklyn College	3
12	Lehman College	4
10	Lehman College	1
11	Sarah Lawrence	0
11	Sarah Lawrence	0
8	St. Elizabeth	0
11	St. Elizabeth	0
5	Purchase College	2
2	Purchase College	5

All concentration, sophomore Emily Palmieri out of St. John's Villa, connects for a two-bagger against Prairie State College. Her .377 on base percentage went along with her impressive .982 percent fielding average as a combination first baseman/designated hitter (photo right).

Softball

Anyway you slice it, 2010 was a huge year for the Lady Bears Softball Team. Not only were they 26-9-1 overall (2-0 in conference play), but included in those 26 victories were an amazing 11 shutouts, with a string of 4 shutout games in a row.

With a team loaded with talent, particularly notable was the play of Alyson Chiaramonte--a true two-way threat. Not only did she lead the team in batting average at .462, hits (43), total bases (50) and stolen bases (8), but she was also the team's pitching star going 12-3 on the season.

The team also featured two other .400 hitters: Millicia Malvasio at

.446 and Christina Girardi at .400.

Lisa Scheer led the team in RBIs with 26, followed by Chiaramonte at 24 and Lauren Norris at 21. Malvasio had an almost preternatural .578 slugging percentage and a .569 on base percentage.

The team put together a winning streak of 8 consecutive games and only had one 3 game losing streak for the entire season.

There's power in these bats and plenty of strength in the hurler's arms and talent at the key positions--enough to make the SJC Lady Bears a force to be reckoned with in conference play for the next two or three seasons.

Millicia Malvasio, one of five freshmen on the Lady Bears, makes the pivot at second base. She also played shortstop with an .878 fielding percentage (photo above).

Top Row: Head Coach Frank Carbone, Assistant Coach Luke Klimaszewski, Amanda Castello, Andrea Sideli, Emily Palmieri, Mabel Vargas, Alyson Chiaramonte, Melyssa Simo, Christina Girardi, Caitlin Kakavas, Teresa Mangan, Assistant Coach C.J. Kavanagh, Assistant Coach Joann Schmitt. Bottom Row: Danielle Marino, Jillilan Troise, Lisa Scheer, Millicia Malvaasio, Jackie Marinello, Lauren Norris.

The eye and form of a champion. Senior Jessica Lintner became the first Lady Bear's tennis player to win a title outright when she won the HVWAC singles tournament in the fall of 2009. She also logged the most wins on the team (photo below).

All the way from Crystal Lake, Illinois, freshman Kristin Bauman is one of the increasing number of out-of-staters coming to St. Joseph's College. With experience, she will prove to be a strong addition to the Lady Bear's Tennis program (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's Opponent

0	Purchase	9
0	Sarah Lawrence	9
0	City Tech	9
0	Staten Island	9
0	Brooklyn College	9
7	Medgar Evers	2
1	York College	8
3	Pratt Institute	6
9	Vaughn	0
3	New Rochelle	6

Head Coach Walter Sanchez

Patricia Nealon out of St. Francis Prep in Queens is one of seven freshmen members of the Lady Bears Tennis Team (photo above).

Women's Tennis

With seven out of nine members of the Lady Bears Tennis Team freshmen, no one had high hopes for the squad in the face of tough HVWAC competition. For that reason, any positives that the team could look to were major triumphs.

In light of that fact, the team's 2-8 overall record (2-3 in the conference) may be regarded as not too bad. Since most of the team's young players will be returning in the fall, Coach Walter Sanchez just might have something going for the next two or three years.

Tops on the squad was the only senior on the team, Jessica

Lintner. Her overall record was 7-4 and that included a winning streak of 7 straight matches.

In an astonishing upset, Lintner won the HVWAC singles tournament--the first time an SJC tennis player won any major championship.

Freshmen Elizabeth Stein and Kristen Bauman were second on the team with two victories apiece. The doubles team of Jessica Lintner and Kristen Bauman managed a 4-1 record in conference play and a 5-6 record overall.

It has just been a few years since tennis was a club sport at SJC. Already, it has produced its first individual champion.

Jessica Lintner once again demonstrates the form and concentration that has made her the most successful player in SJC Women's Tennis history (photo above).

NO TEAM PHOTO AVAILABLE

Senior stalwart Ed Han shows off his forehand in a match he won against City Tech. Edward was named the HVMAC Player of the Week twice during the 2010 season, the first time a SJC player had won that accolade more than once (photo below).

Pat Chiarel, a senior out of Archbishop Molloy High School, keeps his eye on the ball for an ace serve against York College, a match that saw the SJC Bears win 3 games, but go down to defeat by a score of 6-3) photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's Opponent

2	Yeshiva University	7
3	Brooklyn College	6
3	York College	6
0	CSI	9
1	Webb Institute	8
4	Lehman College	5
2	Culinary Institute	7
1	Cooper Union	8
0	Pratt Institute	9
7	City Tech	2
6	Sarah Lawrence	3

HVMAC Tournament: 3rd

Head Coach Walter Sanchez

Sophomore Muhammad Ali Bhatti out of James Madison High School in Brooklyn has all the tools to be a team leader over the next two seasons. He was second to Ed Han in number of games won at 4 and as a doubles team with Han, the duo went 6-3 on the season (photo above).

Men's Tennis

What can one say? It doesn't seem to get easier for the Men's Tennis Team as another season went by with minimal results.

The team did not win its first match until the very end of the season and finished with a 1-9 record, 0-4 in the HVMAC.

Considering that most of the players on the team have had minimal competitive experience and some are actual newcomers to the game, it is fair to say that any victory at all is better than nothing.

And there were some bright spots along the way during the season. Senior Ed Han was named the HVMAC Player of the Week twice--an honor never before won by a SJC Men's Tennis Team member. He also led the team with 5 victories with an overall singles record of 5-5.

Newcomer Muhammad Ali Bhatti garnered 4 victories with an overall 4-5 record. Only a sophomore, Bhatti has a bright future ahead of him as an SJC tennis player.

Coach Walter Sanchez stresses fundamentals with his players at practices, which is really all that can be expected, since his players are so new to the game. But record notwithstanding, the squad enjoys playing and returning players are already looking to next season.

Sophomore Anthony Grasso out of St. John's Prep in Queens gets down low for a return against Webb Institute (photo above).

NO TEAM PHOTO AVAILABLE

A and they're off! The entire SJC Men's Cross Country Team keeps together in a meet held in Prospect Park, Brooklyn (photo below).

E tched into Teresa Mangan's face is the strain and exhaustion that comes with being a long distance runner (photo right).

Left to Right: Lew Monaco, Wilkerson Exantus, Mike Dziewit, Scott Gomez, Maciej Sadowski, Javier Bosque, Ed Han.

SCOREBOARD

MEN'S

NY Inst. of Technology	4th/4
Stevens Tech Invitational	8th/10
Mt. St. Mary's Invit.	19/19
Hunter College Invit.	10th/10
HVMAC Championship	5th/5

WOMEN'S

NY Inst. of Technology	4th/4
Stevens Tech. Invitational	8th/11
Mt. St. Mary's Invit.	13th/15
Hunter College Invit.	9th/9
HVWAC Championship	5th/6

Head Coach Frank Carbone

Running strong, Will Exantus paces himself in a 8k race through Prospect Park (photo above).

Cross Country

You run and run over rough terrain until your body feels as though it will give out--and then you keep on running. That's the life of a cross country runner.

Cross Country is a new sport at St. Joseph's and it will take time for the athletes--most of whom compete in other sports--to become acclimated to the long distance regimen involved in the sport.

No one expected miracles from the team--and no miracles occurred. Strongest of the runners was on the Women's team. Teresa Mangan placed 5th in the HVWAC Championships with a time of 23:28. This went along with her two 11th place finishes in the Stevens Tech and Hunter College Invitationals.

The highest finish on the Men's side was achieved by sophomore Maciej Sadowski--a 19th place finish in the Stevens Tech Invitational. Second on the team was Javier Bosque who came in 21st place in the first meet of the year, the New York Institute of Technology Invitational.

Most of the runners on both the Men's and Women's teams will be back in September to start the routine all over again: running like there's no tomorrow and no end in sight.

Such is the nature of Cross Country running.

Left to Right: Danielle Marino, Joanna Marciniak, Alyson Chiarmonte, Teresa Mangan, Kristin Binkes, Stephanie Quick.

Kristin Binkes and Danielle Marino head for the finish Line in the New York Institute of Technology Invitational (photo above).

Catherine Muldoon (foreground) makes a strong start with a picture perfect dive in the Hudson Valley Invitational Meet. Only a Sophomore, she swam in a variety of events turning in several 2nd place finishes for the team (photo below).

Freshman Olivia O'Hara, out of Brooklyn's Fontbonne Hall shows her form in the backstroke. She also competed in the breaststroke and individual medley events, taking a 1st place and several 2nd place finishes for the season (photo right).

SCOREBOARD

St. Joseph's	Opponent
133	New Rochelle	113
112	Sarah Lawrence	132
2/3	HVWAC Invitational	2/3
117	St. Joseph's L.I.	137
70	St. Elizabeth's	52
56	Notre Dame (MD)	63
131	Mt. St. Vincent	121
96	Old Westbury	87
69	Sarah Lawrence	77

Head Coach Leonard DeVirgilio

Allison Nunziata shows off her style in a backstroke event vs. St. Elizabeth's College. In the season opener against New Rochelle, Allison won the 200 meter free style medley. Only a sophomore, she looks to be one of the team's rising stars for the next two seasons (photo right).

Swimming

Not bad. Not bad at all. For St. Joseph's College's newest team, the 2009-10 season has to be considered a great success.

Even with a record that was only 4-4 and 1-1 in HVWAC conference competition, the results that the Lady Bears turned in were quite impressive.

Paced by co-captain and team star Kristen McMaster, the team held its own against tough and experienced competition. Taking into consideration that this is only the second year that the team has been in existence, the results were very gratifying, and with only three seniors graduating, there is plenty of young talent for years to come.

Nor was the team lacking in personal accolades for its swimmers. Kristen McMaster, Allison Nunziata and Olivia O'Hara were each named to the HVWAC All-Conference team.

McMaster was also named Swimmer of the Week for December 15, 2009, and Nicole Velez was the Rookie of the Week for November 17, 2009. Kristen was also named to the conference Honor Roll.

Second year coach Leonard DeVirgilio has assembled a fine crop of young swimmers, whose bright future is reflected in the results of the 2009-10 season.

Back Row: Head Coach Leonard DeVirgilio, Irene Triant, Darci Crimil, Abigail Verbil, Nicole Velez, Olivia O'Hara, Rolanda Robinson, Tara Grogan. Back Row: Jessica Lintner, Briane Reilly, Jaelyn Collins, Catherine Muldoon, Dashana Payne, Jenna DeFillippo, Kristen McMaster, Alison Nunziata, Elizabeth Fiorella, Athletic Director Frank Carbone.

Under the watchful eye of Coach Leonard DeVirgilio, sophomore co-captain Kristen McMaster out of Fontbonne Hall, executes a picture perfect start (photo above).

An Interview With Edward Han...

THE B.M.O.C.

It's quite possible that some of you have been off-planet for the last four years, and that would explain why you have never heard of Edward Han.

But for those of us who have spent four years with this remarkable young man, we have come to know and respect him for everything that he has accomplished at St. Joseph's College.

Ed Han is what years ago used to be called the B.M.O.C.--the Big Man on Campus. The standout. Not only what was once called the 'superjock,' but now has come to mean the super-involved student who has made St. Joe's his mission in life.

We thought that it would be appropriate to honor Ed in the Athletics section of Footprints

2010, because he is the only four-letter man on campus--an athlete who has gained varsity status on four separate teams.

So we sent our reporters out to catch up with Ed and find out a little bit more about him--his plans, his achievements, his overall philosophy on school.

We hope you find it as interesting as we did, getting to talk to a truly unique individual.

Footprints 2010: Good morning Ed!

Edward: Good morning! Thanks for arranging your schedule to fit with mine.

Footprints 2010: Let's start small, Ed. Did you participate in athletics in high school?

Edward: Yes. I did indoor track during the winter season, and tennis in the spring. Also marching band in the fall, but that's not really a sport.

Footprints 2010: What would make you want to be on four separate teams at St. Joseph's?

Edward: There's not just one reason why I did this. One, I want to be active in the college community and provide as much support as I can, since they have provided me with a free education. Two, I love playing sports, being competitive and maintaining myself in good physical condition. Three, I work more efficiently when I am busy. If I have a packed schedule, it forces me to turn in and do certain things on time, which helps me academically.

Footprints 2010: Did you have a favorite sport here at SJC?

Edward: Tennis is by far my favorite sport. I've been playing for 12 years now.

Footprints 2010: Did all those practices impact upon your grades at all?

Edward: I'm sure they did, but knowing myself, I probably would not have used the time as efficiently if I did not have the practices. Yeah, anybody can study all day and get a 4.0, but what fun is that when you don't get involved?

Footprints 2010: What do you find so appealing about competitive sports?

Edward: I absolutely love the training for the sport, and once training is done, I love the adrenaline rush you get while playing.

Footprints 2010: If you could do it all over again, how would you do it differently?

Edward: I wouldn't. I'd do the exact same things I've done for the last four years.

Footprints 2010: Tell us about your career plans.

Edward: I plan on working in the investment banking field or somewhere else in the financial sector. Maybe even the stock market.

Footprints 2010: What did you major in at SJC?

Edward: I'm a Business Administration major with a minor in Accounting.

Footprints 2010: Tell us about some of the non-athletic activities you are involved with at SJC.

Edward: I'm on the Step Team and the Dance Team. I'm also a member of the Student Athletic Advisory Committee, the SJC Jazz Ensemble, the Business Club, Globespotters and I am a Peer Advisor, an Orientation Leader and a Resident Assistant at the dormitory.

Footprints 2010: Whoa! How do you find time to do all of those activities?

Edward: At first it was hard. But after awhile, my time management skills kicked in and I learned to balance everything. The important and successful thing I learned was to keep your priorities straight.

Footprints 2010: Now that your college career is almost over, any regrets?

Edward: Someone once said, "You cannot regret what you do, but only what you don't do." So no, no regrets.

Footprints 2010: How did you get to SJC all the way from your home in McClean, Virginia?

Edward: I was searching in the college books for a small school in different places, but mainly the city, so when I become a businessman, I can start building my connections early. The full scholarship to SJC also helped.

Footprints 2010: Ed, thanks a lot for your time. You are one special young man--a real B.M.O.C.!

On the Fields and Courts of SJC

With the rapid growth of the athletics program at St. Joseph's College over the last six years, it has become increasingly more difficult to cover everything that happens in SJC sports in the limited space of a yearbook. Not only has athletics led to a leap in participation in extracurricular activities amongst the undergraduate population of the college, but it has also served as a magnet for high school applications from prospective freshmen, who are interested in attending. With its full NCAA Division III membership, SJC has won an amazing number of conference championships, adding to the luster and renown of the college. Some of the reasons for those many championships are depicted on these pages: the athletes of the various teams who practice, compete and strive for glory for themselves and St. Joseph's. We are proud to devote some pages to the teams and their players who month after month populate the courts and playing fields of St. Joseph's College.

■ SJC's Royal Steppers Step Team, though not an actual NCAA varsity sport or team, were, nevertheless, both a visible and indispensable part of the athletics scene at the college, performing at half time at home basketball games.

■ Senior Jaclyn Collins was one of the charter members of the SJC Swimming Team, moving with it as it grew from club status to NCAA and HVCAC varsity status.

SJC'S SENIOR ATHLETES

- Pat Chiarel
- Edward Han
- Jaclyn Collins
- Keith Juricich
- Chris Davidson
- Jessica Lintner
- Mike Dziewit
- Lew Monaco
- Wilkerson Exantus
- Rolanda Robinson
- Larry Fawcett
- Julia Serewko

■ It's high fives for Alyson Chiaramonte and Jaclyn Marinello as they celebrate another victory in a terrific lady Bears 26-9-1 season.

■ Senior Forward Wilkerson Exantus concentrates on a free throw. Will led the team in field goal percentage at .573 and offensive rebounds with 75.

■ Junior Melissa Simo out of Midwood High School led the team with 59 sets and 163 assists. She also had 123 digs for the 2009 season.

■ Senior Julia Serewko out of Mary Louis Academy had 143 rebounds and led the team with 103 defensive boards and 28 blocked shots.

■ Senior Chris Davidson was an offensive machine for the Bears: .373 batting average, .529 slugging percentage, 27 RBIs and 7 doubles.

■ A two sport athlete, sophomore Alyson Chiaramonte ran Cross Country as a way of building her endurance for Lady Bears softball.

All the work, all the anxiety, all the dreams culminate with commencement. In the impressive and stately confines of the Brooklyn Academy of music, the Class of 2010 gathered for their academic accolades and to be pronounced graduates entitled to all the rights and appurtenances symbolized by their diplomas. Some speeches, some interludes, a walk to the stage to be 'hooded' and a four year journey comes to a screeching halt. We had reached the end of the road--at last.

As the Grand Marshal at commencement, Professor Carol Hayes of the Biology Department carries the college mace and leads the processional into the Brooklyn Academy of Music. The pomp and ceremony of the commencement exercises dates back to the middle ages and the very first European universities (photo above).

The various divisions of St. Joseph's College, including Arts and Sciences and the Professional and Graduate School are lead into the Brooklyn Academy of Music by students bearing the banner of each division. The SJC commencement was colorful, moving and memorable for all members of the Class of 2010 (photo above).

Seniors

What will the future hold for the Class of 2010? It's a fairly safe bet that when we look back upon Footprints 2010 ten or twenty years from now, we won't look very much like we look in this, our Senior Section. Age, experience--life itself--will take its toll and no doubt, the changes will be profound and dramatic. But as we thumb through our yearbook down the road, we will be able to say, "Here we were--in our youth, with our futures ahead of us, with worlds to conquer and goals to achieve." In gowns, hoods, and a laid back informality--the Class of 2010, awaiting graduation.

Bachelor of Arts

David Sean Acree

David will be receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Social Science in June of 2010.

He is a member of the Basketball Team and is the SJC all-time leading scorer. He is also a member of the Diversity Union. He would like to thank his mother, Janet Mays, David Acree, Nathaniel Mays and Coach Matakoto for all their support.

"Legends Never Die."

—Anonymous

Social Science

Bachelor of Arts

Francesca Alexis

Francesca was a member of the Student Ambassadors, the Carribean Student Association and the Speech and Language Club. She was the club honoree for Student Ambassadors 2008-2009. She plans on attending graduate school for Speech. Many thanks to her parents, her boyfriend, her siblings and all who believed in her and encouraged her.

"In order to succeed, your desire for success should be greater than your fear of failure."

—Bill Cosby

Child Study/ Speech

Bachelor of Science

Margaret C. Als

Margaret plans on continuing her education by earning her Masters degree. She enjoys reading, traveling and listening to music.

She would like to thank her son Akeem for being so patient with her, and her sister Jennifer Jemmott for her unflagging support during her undergraduate education.

"Always look your best. There is never a second chance to make a first impression"

Organizational Management

MBA

Paula A. Atkins

Management

Paula will be the proud recipient of her M.B.A. in June of 2010.

She plans on continuing her education beyond the Master's degree.

She would like to thank her husband, Benjamin, for his encouragement, and her children Angelica and Andrew for being the driving force behind her achieving her goals.

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."

—Nelson Mandela

Bachelor of Science

John A. Attard

Biology

John has a minor in Secondary Education and plans on earning his Master's degree in education. He is the holder of the S. George Aquin Scholarship and a member of Beta Beta Beta Biology Honor Society. His interests include playing bass guitar and sports.

John thanks his parents, professors and friends for their support.

"I carry my adornments on my soul. I do not dress up like a popinjay, but inwardly, I keep my daintiness."

—Cyrano de Bergerac

Master of Science

Alva Bailey-Whyte

Nursing

Alva plans on working as a Clinical Nurse Specialist after graduation.

Her interests include reading, listening to music and traveling.

She would like to thank her family members who supported her during this challenging time, and her colleagues who switched days off so she could have time for school.

"If you wish success in life, make perseverance your bosom friend, experience your counselor, caution your elder brother and hope your guardian genius."—Joseph Addison

MBA

Darlene Bautista

Management

Darlene was a member of the Student Advisory Council for the Professional and Graduate School.

Her hobbies include reading and knitting. She extends her sincerest thanks to her family, the staff of St. Joseph's College and God for her success.

"Stay true to yourself."
—Anonymous

Bachelor of Arts

Ariel K. Bedeau

Child Study

Ariel plans on earning a Master's degree in Administration or Curriculum and Instruction. At SJC she was a member of the Caribbean Student Association, Royal Steppers, Fashion Club, Students Joined through Christ, Choral Society, Mindfulness Club, Softball Team and Beta Upsilon Delta sorority. She thanks her mother and sisters of BUD and her professors.

"When your life flashes before your eyes, make sure you've got plenty to watch."
—Anonymous

Bachelor
of Science

Maudeline Bernadin-Renaud

Health Administration

Maudeline plans to continue her education to earn a Master's degree.

She was a member of the St. Joseph's College Dance Club and enjoys playing the piano and traveling. She thanks God for His blessings and thanks Professor Leon Bernardyn, Rosa Lee Raines and Aldric Reid for their inspiration.

"Education is the power to think clearly, the power to act well in the world's work, and the power to appreciate life."
—Anonymous

Bachelor of Arts

Amelia Bertolino

Amelia's plans include earning a Master's degree in Art Therapy. At St. Joe's, she was a member of the Student Ambassadors Club, the Mindfulness Club, the Fashion Club and the Dance Club. She enjoys dance and art as hobbies. She would like to thank her parents, family, friends and all her psychology and art professors for their help and inspiration.

"Your vision will become clear only when you look into your heart. Who looks outside, dreams; who looks inside, awakens."

—Carl Jung

Psychology Management

Bachelor of Science

Mander Best

Mander's plans include possibly becoming a Certified Public Accountant and a licensed real estate broker. Her interests include cooking, math and traveling. She would like to thank her parents, Loray and Tony, her sister Dakota, her godmother Tee Tee and her grandfather Leroy Morrison as well as Davon Smith, her friends, her church, and of course God, for all their help.

"Always strive for the best."

—Loray Thompson

Accounting

Bachelor of Science

Angela Blackett

Angela would like to use her accounting skills and knowledge in the auditing field. Her interests include reading and traveling. She extends her sincerest thanks to her husband, Wayne Blackett, for his support and love during her undergraduate career.

"Do unto others as you will have them do unto you. Their tastes might not be the same."

—George Bernard Shaw

Accounting

Bachelor of Science

Sharon Brown

Upon graduation, Sharon plans on continuing her education in graduate school to earn a Master's degree.

She enjoys reading and watching television, particularly reality shows. She would like to thank Dr. Gloria Gasper, Dr. Aldric Reid and Professor Curling-Scott and Linda Pasquale for their support.

"Hope, yes we can."
—President Barack Obama

Community Health

Bachelor of Arts

Keara Browne

Keara plans on being an elementary school teacher and studying for her Master's degree.

She was president of the Gaelic Society, a member of Beta Upsilon Delta, and Delta Epsilon Sigma and Sigma Iota Chi Honor Societies.

Her thanks go out to her mother, Cathy, her brother, Patrick and her Aunt Eileen for their constant care and encouragement.

"Every new beginning is some beginning's end."
—Bon Jovi

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Kathleen Brucas

Kathleen was a member of Chapel Players, C.A.B Program Director, SGA Parliamentarian, Gaelic Society, and an Orientation Leader. She also held the Board of Trustees scholarship.

She would like to thank her parents, family and friends and all who helped her get to where she is today.

"The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."
—Eleanor Roosevelt

Biology

Bachelor of Arts

Amanda Bruni

After graduation, Amanda plans on entering the teaching profession to teach either kindergarten or first grade. She also plans on going to graduate school to earn her Master's degree. Her interests include dancing and traveling. Amanda would like to thank her family and friends for their support and for making so many great memories.

"Everything happens for a reason."
—Anonymous

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Krystal Cabrera

Krystal plans on becoming an elementary school teacher after graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Dean's List, CEC and Delta Epsilon Sigma Honor Society. Her hobbies include golfing and bowling. She would like to extend her sincerest thanks to her mother and father for standing by her through the years.

"Do not go where the path may lead; go instead where there is no path and leave a trail."
—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Danielle Calamia

Danielle is a Secondary Education minor and plans on teaching high school. She would like to thank her parents for their unending support and care during her college career.

"You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose."
—Dr. Seuss

Mathematics

Bachelor of Arts

Charnelle Campbell

Charnelle plans on attending graduate school after graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Student Ambassadors, the Senate, the Art Club, the Psychology Club, the Dance Club and she was an Orientation Leader. She enjoys gaining knowledge to share with others. She would like to thank all the individuals that she considers her backbone.

"If you fail to prepare, you prepare to fail."
—Anonymous

Human Relations

Bachelor of Arts

Michael Capizzo

Michael would like to be a professor of mathematics someday. At SJC, he was a member of Chapel Players for four years. President and member of Knight Moves and a member of the CAB staff. His interests are acting and teaching. He would like to thank his mother and father, his grandmother, Mike, Sean and Anthony for their great support.

"Always look on the bright side of life."
--The Life of Brian

Mathematics

Bachelor of Arts

Francesca Casale

Francesca plans on going to graduate school to become a Speech/Language Pathologist. At SJC, she was in the Honors Program and was an Eucharistic Minister. She was also a member of Beta Upsilon Delta sorority and vice president of the Gaelic Society. She would like to thank her parents for always pushing her and loving her, and her friends for lending a hand and making her laugh.

"Don't be tardy for the party."
—Kim Zoliak

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Ivy Lai Yi Chan

After graduation, Ivy would like to find a job and gain work experience to enhance her career opportunities.

She enjoys traveling around the world and a variety of sports activities.

Ivy would like to thank her parents, sister and friends for all the support and encouragement they have given her.

"There is only one success--to be able to spend your life in your own way."

--Christopher Morley

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Science

Huldah Charles

Huldah has had a busy career in extracurricular activities at SJC. She has been the freshman, sophomore and senior representative, the SGA Parliamentarian, the president of Students Joined through Christ, a member of the Fashion Club, the Science Club and CSA. She would like to thank her family and close friends for all their support during difficult times.

"Be bold in what you stand for and careful what you fall for."

--Anonymous

Biology

Bachelor of Science

Louanne Charles

Louanne plans on entering the St. Joseph's College graduate program in 2010 to earn a Master's degree.

Her interests include shopping, listening to music, dancing, reading, traveling and decorating.

She would like to thank her family for their strength and support, and her professors for their ongoing encouragement.

"It always seems impossible until it is done."

--Nelson Mandela

Health Administration

Bachelor of Science

Diana Chavez

Community Health/Human Services

Diana will earn her Bachelor's degree in June of 2010. While at St. Joseph's College, she received a certificate in Counseling. She hopes to continue her education in a Master's program at SJC. Her main hobby is reading. She would like to thank her family, Cesar, Alyssa and Antonio and her brother Elvis for all their support.

"Live and let live."
—Anonymous

Bachelor of Science

Yi Rong Chen

Accounting

In the process of earning her Bachelor's degree, Yi Rong amassed an amazing 3.9 Grade Point Average. She loves dancing and learning new things. She would like to thank Professors Fasano, Torz and Nair for their constant support of her goals.

"Best of luck to the Class of 2010"

Bachelor of Arts

Patrick Chiarel

Child Study

Patrick had an active sports career at St. Joseph's College as a member of the varsity Tennis Team, Golf Team, Cross Country Team and Volleyball Team. He was also a member of the CAB Event Staff. He plans either to be a teacher or a firefighter. His interests include sports, exercise and friends. He thanks the Athletic Department and the Basketball Team for their support.

"Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall."
—Confucius

Bachelor of Arts

Jessica Chirico

Jessica plans on becoming a high school History teacher upon graduation. At SJC she was a member of Chapel Players and the Historical Society. She was also a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma and Sigma Iota Chi Honor Societies as well as a member of the Dean's List. She would like to thank Ramona and James Chirico for their love and support.

"A dreamer is one who can only find his way by moonlight and his punishment is that he sees the dawn before the rest of the world."—Oscar Wilde

History

MS/MBA

Sharon Christian

Sharon will be awarded both an Executive MBA and a Master of Science degree in Human Resources Management in 2010. She would like to thank her mother and father and her brother Dennis for their love and constant support of her goals.

"To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream; not only plan, but also believe."
—Anatole France

Human Resources Management

Bachelor of Arts

Stacey Cius

Stacey plans on continuing her education in graduate school upon graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Fashion Club, E-board, CSA, President of the Psychology Club, Vice president of the Mindfulness Club, the Junior Class Representative and the Senior Committee. She would like to thank her family for all their love and support.

"Good luck to the Class of 2010."

Psychology

Bachelor of Science

Rufina Clement

Community Health and Human Services

Upon graduation, Rufina plans on continuing her education by attending Nursing School. At SJC she earned a Counseling Certificate. She enjoys reading and traveling. She would like to thank her family, her friends, and the entire staff of St. Joseph's College for their unending support of her goals and aspirations.

"I have struggled, and even when my world was falling apart, I did not quit. I got up, dusted myself off and kept on going. I got down on my knees and thanked God for his blessings."

MBA

Sherryann Coker

Management

Sherryann hopes to become a Healthcare Administrator after graduation. Her interests include observing people, reading the Bible and going to movies. She would like to thank her husband, Kelvin Coker, her children, Shayna and Kelvin, and her mother, Marcia Holder and all her co-workers at Village Nursing Home Rehab Department for their support.

"We all dream, but in order to make dreams come into reality, it takes an awful lot of determination, dedication, self-discipline and effort."—Jesse Owens

Bachelor of Arts

Jaclyn Collins

Speech Communication

Jaclyn plans to pursue a Master's degree in Speech Pathology. At SJC she was president of SGA, a member of Chapel Players, Beta Upsilon Delta sorority, the Swim Team, Gaelic Society, Jazz Ensemble, Choral Society and Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society. She would like to thank her family and friends who have helped her through her four years of college.

"It is our choices that show what we truly are, far more than our abilities."

—J.K. Rowling

Bachelor of Arts

Amy Cruz

After graduation, Amy would like to teach either Special Education or General Education and pursue her Master's degree. Her special thanks go to her father, mother, Emma, her family and everyone else who was so helpful to her during her college career.

"One day your life will flash before your eyes. Make sure it's worth watching."

—Anonymous

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Mary D'Acierno

Mary plans on becoming either a teacher or a Speech Pathologist after graduation. At SJC she was the captain of the Dance Team, an Orientation leader and an FYE leader. She was also a member of Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society and the Dean's List. She would like to thank her mother and father for their love and support during college.

"Victory is within the mile, almost there, don't give up now."

—Rihanna

Child Study/Speech

Bachelor of Science

Kajal Dalal

Kajal was a member of the Student Ambassadors, Student Alumni Association, Historical Society, Child Study Club, Honors Program, Globe Spotters, Yearbook Staff and Sigma Iota Chi and Delta Epsilon Sigma Honor Societies. She would like to thank her parents, sisters, Surbhi and Kavita Dalal, and all her professors for their inspiration and guidance.

"The aim of life is self-development. To realize one's nature perfectly—that is what each of us is here for."

—Oscar Wilde

Business Administration

Bachelor of Science

Charles Daly

Charles plans on continuing his education in pursuit of a Master's degree in Health Care Management. He enjoys reading, games and movies.

"The flower that follows the sun does so even in cloudy days."
—Robert Leighton

Health Care Administration

Master of Science

Judith Daniel

Judith's career goal is to become an Academic Nurse Educator. She enjoys reading, gardening, music, stamp collecting, plays and movies. Her thanks go out to her son Kamau and her sister Angela who fed, nourished and encouraged her when she was too weak, sleepy, tired and hungry to do it for herself.

"The heights that great men have achieved and kept were not achieved by sudden flight, but while their companions slept, they toiled upward in the night."

Nursing

Bachelor of Arts

Sally Demosthene

Sally is one of the very few English majors in the Class of 2010. She had a busy career at SJC as a member of the Science Club, Chapel Players, Dance Club, SHRM, CAB Staff and the Student Leadership Experience. She enjoys meeting people and learning. She thanks Esther Demosthene, her parents, her professors and her friends for their inspiration.

"You are only as good as your biggest failure."
—Anonymous

English

Bachelor of Arts

Marsha Desrosiers

Marsha plans on continuing her education to become a School Psychologist. She was a member of the Fashion Club, the Student Alumni Association and the staffs of The Spirit and Footprints. She enjoys reading and listening to music. She would like to thank her parents, her brother, her fiancé and her closest friends for all their support while she was a student.

"The best way to prepare for life is to begin to live."
—Elbert Hubbard

Psychology

Bachelor of Arts

Francesca Dolan

After earning her Bachelor's degree, Francesca would like to enter graduate school to pursue an MBA. At SJC she was a member of Campus Ministry and Outreach and the Historical Society. She was also a member of Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society and the Dean's List. Her thanks go out to her parents, grandparents, sister Mary and boyfriend Patrick for their support.

"With God all things are possible."
—Matthew 19:26

History

Bachelor of Science

Naderge Dossous

Naderge plans on furthering her education by earning a Master's degree in Early Childhood Education. At SJC she received a Certificate in Counseling. She enjoys singing, dancing, reading, writing, drawing and design and going to church. Her thanks go first to God, then to her mother and Dr. Gloria Gasper and her adviser, Angela Diaz, for their constant help and understanding.

"Dreaming something will not set the goal, but actually achieving it can make a big difference."
—Anonymous

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Science

Michael Dzewit

Using the knowledge he gained as a business student, Michael would someday like to open his own business. At SJC he kept busy with athletics as a member of the varsity Basketball, Cross Country and Golf teams. He was also a member of the Business Club and SAAC. He would like to thank his parents, classmates and teammates for being there for him at all times.

"Practice? We're talking about practice? Not a real game--but we're talking about practice. Practice man, practice!"

—Allen Iverson

Business Administration

Bachelor of Arts

Corina Estevez

Corina hopes to embark upon her teaching career and begin studying for her Master's degree in Bilingual Education. At SJC she was a staff member of The Spirit and Footprints. Her interests include traveling and doing volunteer work with JDV Ministry. She would like to thank God, her husband, family and friends for their constant support of her goals.

"The person who makes a success of living is the one who sees his goal steadily and aims for it unswervingly. That is dedication."—Cecil B. DeMille

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Miguel Estevez

Miguel will continue at SJC to earn his Master's degree in 2011 after he takes some time off to work. At SJC he was a member of the Dean's List for academic achievement. He enjoys reading, exercising, listening to music and participating in church activities. He would like to thank all the people who supported him in his career and all his professors.

"Education allows us to change and create a better future."

—Anonymous

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Arts

Daphney Etienne

Psychology

Daphney plans to attend graduate school to get a Master's degree in Psychological Counseling. At SJC, she was a member of the Student Alumni Association, the Fashion Club, the Psychology Club and the Caribbean Student Association.

She would like to thank her parents who helped her achieve her goals in college.

"What progress, you ask, have I made? I have begun to be a friend to myself."

—Hecato

Bachelor of Science

Lawrence Fawcett

Business Administration

Lawrence foresees graduate school in his future to earn an MBA. At SJC he was a member of the varsity Basketball, Tennis and Cross Country Teams. He was a member of the Dean's List and received the Men's Basketball Coach's Award. He would like to thank his parents, his family, his teammates and Lewis Monaco for their support and friendship.

"Player haters elevate us. If you cross me, you'll die."

—Granddaddy 'Bron

Bachelor of Arts

Ana Fernandez

Child Study

Ana has ambitious plans following her graduation. She would like to work as a teacher for several years, and then open up her own daycare center. She would like to thank her mother and her fiancé who have always been there for her, and her professors, all the St. Joseph's staff, and her friends.

"Teachers teach because they care. Teaching young people is what they do best. It requires long hours, patience and care."

—Horace Mann

Bachelor of Arts

MaryEllen Ferrera

MaryEllen was a member of the SJC Honors program for four years. She was also a member of the Historical Society and Delta Epsilon Sigma and Sigma Iota Chi Honor Societies. She extends her thanks to her mother, father and sister for their support and inspiration.

"Courage is what it takes to stand up and speak; courage is also what it takes to sit down and listen."

—Winston Churchill

Sociology

Bachelor of Arts

Elizabeth Flack

Elizabeth plans to begin her career as an elementary school teacher following graduation. At SJC she was the secretary of the Gaelic Society and a member of the Honors Program. She was also a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon, Delta Epsilon Sigma and Sigma Iota Chi Honor Societies. She thanks her parents, John and Jeanne, her brother Steve, and her grandmother.

"Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it."

—Ferris Bueller

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Wynnee Ganthier

Wynnee plans to attend law school after graduation. At SJC she was vice president of SGA, and a member of the Caribbean Student Association, Campus Ministry and Outreach, Student Ambassadors and she was a senate Rep. She would like to thank her family, her friends and S. Susan Wilcox for all their support and inspiration.

"The idea is to write it so that people hear it and it slides through the brain and goes straight to the heart."

—Maya Angelou

Criminal Justice

Bachelor of Arts

Filomena Gargano

Filomena is planning on starting her teaching career after graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Child Study Club and the Speech Club. Filomena was also a member of the Dean's List. Her interests include cooking and baking. She would like to thank her family and friends for all the support they gave her during her college career.

"To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream; not only plan, but also believe."

—Anatole France

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Beatrice Gaspard

After graduation, Beatrice plans on attending graduate school to earn a Master's degree in Counseling. She was a member of the Student Alumni Association, the Caribbean Student Association, the Royal Steppers Step Team and the Fashion Club. She would like to thank her parents, her siblings, her son, and her boyfriend Shawn for their support.

"I will succeed allowing no walls to hold me."

—Anonymous

Psychology

MBA

Latifah Gibson

At St. Joseph's, Latifah participated in the Ethics Forum and the Graduate Leadership Lecture Series. She enjoys traveling, dancing and reading. She would like to thank her mother, Anita Stewart, and Professor Linda Lombardi for all their help and support.

"Thanks be to God, who always leads us in triumphal procession in Christ and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance of the knowledge of Him."—2 Corinthians 2:14

Health Care Management

Bachelor of Science

Jacqueline Grant

As a student at St. Joseph's, Jacqueline was a member of the Society of Human Resource Management. She was selected for Dean's List and received certificates in Management, Leadership and Supervision, and Healthcare Management. She would like to thank the members of the faculty and staff and all her classmates for helping with her success.

"Positive energy brings positive thought."

—Anonymous

Health Administration

Bachelor of Arts

Marie Guisment

Marie will continue her education in pursuit of a Master's degree. At SJC she was a member of the Dance Club, Chapel Players, Campus Activities Board and the summer program of Campus Ministry. She enjoys singing, dancing, writing, painting and drawing. She would like to thank her wonderful mother and her amazing friends who have taught her about life and herself.

"Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away."

—Anonymous

Psychology

Bachelor of Science

Edward Han

Edward would someday like to manage his own business. At SJC he was a Resident Adviser, member of the varsity Tennis, Golf, Volleyball, Cross Country teams, Dance Team, SAAC, jazz ensemble, Orientation leader--and many others. He wishes to thank his loving family and his supportive friends and the encouraging staff at SJC for their advice and inspiration.

"You don't know how valuable something is until it's gone."

—Edward Han

Business Administration

Bachelor of Science

Henrietta Harrison

Henrietta plans on continuing her education at St. Joseph's College to earn a Master's degree in Nursing Education. At SJC she was a member of the Nursing Club. She would like to thank Jesus Christ for his blessings and her mother Eleanor and her sisters Leticia and Lendra for their support and encouragement, and to her friends Jacki and Vickie who encouraged her to go back to school.

"What's up? Jesus is up."

Nursing

Bachelor of Science

Bridget Harvey

Bridget plans on continuing her education in pursuit of an MBA degree. She enjoys reading, cooking, traveling and spending time with her family and friends. She would like to give special thanks to God, and to her husband, children, parents, siblings and friends for all their inspiration and support as well as to her classmates and the PGS Staff.

"For I know the plans I have for you, declares the Lord, plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future."—Jeremiah 29:11

Health Administration

Bachelor of Science

Cassandra Hasenbein

Cassandra's goal is to teach business subjects to high school students. At SJC she was a member of the Dance Team. Her interests include dance and art. She would like to thank her parents and her family for all their love and support during her college career.

"Live the Dream."

Business Administration

Bachelor of Science

Cheryl Hazelton

Cheryl plans on pursuing a Master's degree in Health Care Management upon graduation. At SJC she was a member of SHRM. Her major interest is traveling.

"Education is something that can never be taken away from you."

—Anonymous

Health Administration

Bachelor of Science

Sahara Hill

Sahara has big plans after graduation. She would like to become an administrator in a hospital, and someday, she would like to reopen a hospital and make it successful. She would like to thank her mother, Anita, and her sister, Amanda, and Michael, and most of all, her son Kinmel, who has been her inspiration through it all.

"If you don't stand for something, you will fall for anything."

—Anonymous

Health Administration

Bachelor of Science

Teresa Hill

Teresa hopes to attend graduate school in the near future at St. Joseph's in the Executive MBA program. She would like to thank all her professors at SJC and her husband for being so supportive of her efforts. She also thanks her children for motivating her to always move forward.

"If you keep on doing the same old things, you will keep on getting the same old results."

—Oprah Winfrey

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Science

Evelyn Ho Lee

Evelyn plans to enter Pharmacy School to earn her doctoral degree. At SJC she was a member of the Science Club, Globespotters, Desi Student Association and the Asian Awareness Club. She was also a member of Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society. She would like to extend her thanks to her parents, brother, teachers and friends for making her college years so fruitful.

"Excellence is to do a common thing in an uncommon way."
—Booker T. Washington

Chemistry

Bachelor of Science

Karaine Hobbs

After graduation, Karaine plans on attending Nursing School to earn her nursing degree. She would like to thank her mother and her children for being her inspiration throughout her college career.

"Never give up!"

Health Administration

Bachelor of Science

Alamgir Hossain

Alamgir plans on studying taxation for his Master's degree. He would like to become a CPA someday. At SJC he was an Economics tutor and was selected for the Dean's List. His interests include art, music, photography and taxation. He would like to thank his mother and father, his sister, Salama, and his professors for their support and inspiration.

"If you find it in your heart to care for somebody else, you will have succeeded."
—Maya Angelou

Accounting

Bachelor of Science

Saima Jalil

Saima plans on attending Medical School after graduation to earn her M.D. At SJC she was a member of the Science Club, Globe Spotters and the Desi Student Association. She was also a member of Beta Beta Beta Biology Honor Society and Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society. She would like to thank Dr. Hanophy, Mik Larsen, Dr. Delaney, her family and friends for their support.

"The only way of finding the limits of the possible is by going beyond them into the impossible."

—Arthur C. Clarke

Biology

Bachelor of Arts

Jessica Jeudy

Jessica will attend graduate school either to earn a degree in Counseling Psychology or Art Therapy. At SJC she was in the Dance Club, Chapel Players, CAB, Art Club and the Desi Student Association. She is a member of the Honors program and belongs to Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society. She would like to thank her mother, brother, friends and SJC faculty for all they taught her.

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Psychology

Bachelor of Science

Chun Hua Jin

Chun Hua will receive her Bachelor of Science degree in June of 2010. She is an Accounting major. She would like to thank all her professors and staff members of the Professional and Graduate School for their guidance and inspiration.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Accounting

Bachelor of Science

Wiletha Jones

Wiletha plans to attend either Hunter or Lehman College to earn her MSW degree. At SJC she obtained a Certificate in Counseling. Her interests include reading, writing and volunteering. She would like to thank her family for their support, and the staff of SJC for the wonderful experience she had as a student.

"Educating oneself helps you to be a solution to the world's problems."

—Anonymous

Community Health and Human Services

MBA

Elaine Knight

Elaine has some ambitious plans ahead! She would one day like to be the COO or CEO of a Fortune 500 company. At SJC she was a graduate student member of the American College of Healthcare Executives. She would like to thank Dr. Pete, Dr. Lombardi, Dr. Crawford, Dr. Fox and Beverly Nunez for their help and inspiration.

"Always strive for the best and expect the best."

Management

Bachelor of Science

Susan LaCroix

Susan plans on continuing her education in graduate school to earn a Master's degree. Her interests include cooking, puzzles and reading. She would like to thank her family for their loving support, and Lutheran Medical Center for financial support and for giving her the time to pursue her education.

"One of the blessings of age is to learn not to part on a note of sharpness, to treasure the moments spent with those we love."

—Eleanor Roosevelt

Nursing

Bachelor of Arts

Yamilee Laguerre

Yamilee plans to attend graduate school to earn her Master's degree. At SJC she was a member of Campus Ministry and Outreach, a U.N. NGO CSSJ Intern, and a volunteer at the CSSJ High School Conference. She was also a member of the Dean's List. She would like to thank all her professors and friends at St. Joseph's for their support and guidance.

"To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream; not only plan, but also believe."

—Anatole France

Human Relations

Bachelor of Arts

Christine Lanieri

Christine plans to go to the University of Southern Florida to become a School Psychologist. At SJC she was a member of the Psychology Club, and the Events Staff for games. She was also a member of the Honors Program and was selected for Dean's List. She would like to thank Dr. Hudec, Frank Carbone, Hope Barr and her parents for all they did.

"God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."—Reinhold Niebuhr

Psychology

Bachelor of Arts

Danielle Lawless

Danielle plans on starting her teaching career after graduation. She was a member of the Dean's List for academic excellence. She would like to thank her mother, father, and all those who helped and supported her over the years.

"Life is what you make of it. Enjoy every day."

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Charity Lawson

Child Study

Charity plans on teaching elementary education after graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Choral Society and Chapel Players. Her interests include singing and drawing. Charity would like to thank her mother for support and encouragement, and God, who has given her the strength to do her best.

"Tell wind and fire where to stop, but don't tell me!"
—Charles Dickens

Bachelor of Science

Ilia-Aurora Lebron

Community Health and Human Services

Ilia would like to be a visiting nurse in a hospice care center. She was a member of the Dean's List for three terms at SJC. She enjoys reading useful information and planning for the future. Her thanks go out to Professors Scott, Gasper and Dolan for their support and inspiration.

"I'm only human."

Bachelor of Science

Benjamin Lee

Organizational Management

At this time, Benjamin is undecided between going to graduate school or completing a double major as an undergraduate. He was a member of the Dean's List at SJC. He would like to thank Professor Angie Diaz for being his greatest inspiration and mentor. He also thanks Griesel Goldman for helping him at St. Joseph's.

"Be your best--and live to remember it."

Bachelor of Arts

Melissa Leeds

Melissa plans on becoming an elementary school teacher following her graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Gaelic Society. Her interests include traveling and spending time with friends. She would like to thank her parents and supportive friends who saw her through her college career.

"Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you'll land among the stars."

—Les Brown

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Michelle Lindo

Following graduation, Michelle would like to pursue a Master's degree in Public Health. She would like to thank her children, Trevor, Darius, Brittany and Brianna, her husband Tracey, her Aunt Brenda, Grandmother Annie Edwards and Professor Gloria Gasper for all they have done for her.

"Knowledge is like a garden. If it is not cultivated, it can't be harvested."

—African Proverb

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Arts

Jessica Lintner

Jessica will begin her teaching career after graduation in June. She also will attend graduate school to pursue her Master's degree in Education. She was a member of the varsity Swim Team and varsity Tennis Team at SJC. She would like to thank her family and her friends for their guidance and support.

"You have to accept whatever comes and the only important thing is you meet it with courage and with the best you have to give."—Eleanor Roosevelt

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Charlette Lopez

Following graduation, Charlette will attend graduate school in pursuit of her Master's degree. At SJC she was a member of the Dance Club, Psychology Club, Campus Ministry and Outreach and Globe Spotters. She enjoys singing, writing songs and poetry and cooking. She would like to thank Mik Larsen and Professor Sydelle Brooks for all their help. And thanks to Jesus for everything.

"Be the change you wish to see in the world."
—Mahatma Gandhi

Human Relations

Bachelor of Science

Alexandra Lowers

Alexandra would like to return to St. Joseph's for graduate school to study for her MSW degree. She is a member of Sigma Gamma Rho sorority, Alpha Pi chapter. She extends her thanks to her husband, Lynvall, her family, Farah and Julian Clarke, Fabian and Kenya Julien, her parents and the Fortune family for instilling discipline in her.

"Anything that has real and lasting value is always a fight from within."
—Franz Kafka

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Science

Brian Mahon

As of this writing, Brian's plans following graduation are up in the air and he is considering several options. At SJC he was a member of the Men's Basketball and Men's Tennis Teams. He enjoys playing basketball, working out and going to movies. He would like to thank his parents, his family, his friends, and Lewis Monaco for their unending support.

"I'd rather laugh with the sinners than cry with the saints."
—Billy Joel

Business Administration

Bachelor of Science

Tiffany Maldonado

Tiffany will be attending graduate school at St. Joseph's to earn her Executive MBA. She would like to thank some special people for her success and for inspiring her at all times: God, her mother, her father, her two sisters and her fiance Drew.

"Destiny is no matter of chance; it is a matter of choice. It is not a thing to be waited for; it is a thing to be achieved."

—William Jennings Bryan

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Arts

Briana Manza

Briana plans on beginning her teaching career after graduation. She also plans on earning a Master's degree in Literacy and a 2nd Master's in Administration. At SJC she was pledgemaster of Beta Upsilon Delta sorority and a member of the Child Study Club. Her thanks go out to her mother and father and all who pushed her to achieve her goals.

"This is only the beginning. What a beautiful view!"

—Anonymous

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Rosemarie Marchese

Rosemarie plans on being an elementary school teacher and someday she hopes to be an administrator. At SJC she was an Orientation Leader, a member of the Italian Club and an FYE Leader. Her interests include music, teaching and spending time with friends. She thanks her mother, father, Francine, Jack and all her friends for their support.

"I keep doing my own thing. Walking tall against the rain."

—Rihanna

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Kelly-Johanna Martin

Kelly plans on being an elementary school teacher and will attend graduate school for her Master's degree, possibly in Speech Pathology. At SJC she was in the Child Study Club, Speech and Language Club, Desi Club, and the Honors Program. She is a member of Sigma Iota Chi and Delta Epsilon Sigma Honor Societies. She thanks her parents, family and friends for their support.

"Each scar I bear sings monuments to where I have been, and melodies to where I am going."

—Incubus

Child Study/ Speech

Bachelor of Science

Erica Martins

Following graduation, Erica plans on continuing her education in graduate school seeking a Master's degree. She enjoys cooking, traveling and shopping. She would like to thank her mother and father, her grandmother and the Lord Jesus Christ as well as all her friends who have been at her side through her college years.

"Live up to the best that is in you. Live noble lives, as you all may, in whatever condition you may find yourselves."

—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Arts

Carol Mauriello

Carol's plans include beginning her teaching career and getting her Master's degree in either Education or Speech Pathology. She was a member of the Dean's List for four years and carries a 3.95 GPA. She enjoys movies, friends and working out at the gym. She would like to thank her mother, father, brother, grandparents, Brian, Jessica and all her family and friends for their support.

"All your dreams can come true if you have the courage to pursue them."

—Walt Disney

Child Study

MS/MBA

Charlene Mitchell

Human Resources Management

Charlene would like to get a degree and license to teach Administrative Education. At SJC she was a member of the Student Advisory Council. Her interests include dance, writing, reading and martial arts. She would like to extend her thanks to her husband, sister, children, academic adviser, friends and professors for all their inspiration.

"I have grown certain that the root of all fear is that we've been forced to deny who we really are."

—Francis Moore Lappe

Bachelor of Science

Lewis Monaco

Business Management

Lewis would like to join the New York City Fire Department after graduation. At SJC he was a member of the varsity Basketball and Cross Country Teams. His interests include playing basketball and football and working out. He would like to thank his family, friends and teammates for always lending him a helping hand.

"Never say never, because limits, like fears, are often just an illusion."

—Michael Jordan

Bachelor of Science

Shirley Montañez

Health Administration

Shirley plans to continue her education in graduate school to obtain an M.B.A. degree. She is active in sports and enjoys watching movies, searching the internet, singing and dancing. She would like to thank God for allowing her to physically and financially be able to attend college and earn her degree.

"You can always learn at any age. Just be open to it."

Bachelor of Science

Deborah Morales

Deborah plans on earning a Master's degree in Public Health and a Juris Doctorate from Law School. At SJC she was the vice-president of the BSN Club and a member of Campus Ministry and Outreach. Her interests include gerontology, reading and gardening. She thanks her daughter, Ayana-Star, and grandson Justin-Angel and the entire Nursing Department for their inspiration.

"Faith is the strength by which a shattered world shall emerge into the light."
—Helen Keller

Nursing

Bachelor of Arts

Lawrence Morgan

Lawrence plans on attending graduate school in the future. At SJC he was the co-president of the Desi Student Association and a member of the Dance Club. He enjoys politics, dance and music as interests. He would like to thank his father, Ganesh Morgan, his mother, Mayville Morgan and his sister, Trisha Morgan, for all their support and encouragement.

"Life is a process. We are a process. The universe is a process."
—Anne Wilson Schaefer

Social Sciences

MBA

Sandra Narain

Sandra plans on completing her Master of Science degree in Human Resources. She would like to thank her family, her friends and the Ridgewood Savings Bank for being so supportive of her efforts.

"If I can do it, you can do it too!"

Management

Bachelor of Science

Ana Nelson

Ana plans on going to graduate school to pursue a Master's degree in Education. She is the winner of the New York City E.T.A.P Award and an award for Excellence in I.T. Support Service. She would like to thank her husband, Dwight Nelson, and her children, Jazmin, Brittney and Kyra for all their love and support.

"Step by step, stone by stone, brick by brick, everything is attainable with faith in God."

—Whitney Houston

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Arts

Rose Nierer

As a student at St. Joseph's, Rose was a staff member of the Campus Activities Board and a member of the Science Club. Her interests include music, baseball and reading. She would like to extend her sincerest thanks to her friends, her parents and her grandmother for all they have done for her.

"To be young and crazy is to be old and wise, so live for the moment and have no regrets."

—Anonymous

Human Relations

Bachelor of Science

Regina Normil

Regina plans on attending graduate school and working full time for an accounting firm. At SJC she was a member of the Royal Steppers, Caribbean Student Association, Fashion Club, Students Joined in Christ, Professionals in Progress and she was SGA treasurer. She would like to thank God, her mother and grandmother for their strength and support.

"This is my wish for you: comfort on difficult days, smiles when sadness intrudes, rainbows to follow the clouds, laughter to kiss your lips, sunsets to warm your heart, love to complete your life."

Accounting

Bachelor of Science

Mary O'Brien

Following graduation, Mary plans on attending graduate school to earn a Master's degree in Social Work. She has been on the Dean's List every term and carries a 4.0 GPA. Her interests include writing poetry, reading, photography, and being a full time mom. Her thanks go out to her mother, her children and her friends for all they have meant to her.

"Human beings, by changing the inner attitudes of their minds, can change the outer aspects of their lives."

—William James

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Arts

Delilah Ortega

Delilah will attend either Hunter College or the New School for her Master's degree. At SJC she was a member of the Historical Society and the Caribbean Student Association. She was also selected for the Dean's List. Her interests include reading, running and journalism. She would like to thank her parents, family and boyfriend for all their support and encouragement.

"I could not at any age be content to take my place by the fireside and simply look on. Life was meant to be lived.

Curiosity must be kept alive."—Eleanor Roosevelt

Social Sciences

Bachelor of Science

Sandra Osei

Sandra will continue her education after graduating by attending graduate school. She was a member of SJC's Nursing Club. Her interests include cooking and reading. She would like to thank Dr. Florence Jerden, Dr. Tae Sook Kim and Shirley Davis-Lewis for their support and inspiration while she was a student.

"Do not give up on anything. Everything comes gradually at its appointed time."

—Anonymous

Nursing

Master of Science

Dorcas Oyeibanji

Dorcas would like to become an entrepreneur which will help her be an asset to any corporation she works for. She also wants to be a role model leader for younger generations. She enjoys singing, gymnastics, cooking, traveling and swimming. She would like to thank Professors Mathis-Crawford, Lombardi and Pfadenhauer for their inspiration.

"God's grace is immeasurable; His mercy is inexhaustible; His peace inexpressible. May God's name be glorified! Success is galore!"

Health Care Management

Bachelor of Science

Kehinde Oyewole

Kehinde will earn his Bachelor of Science degree in June of 2010. He would like to enter a career in computer information services after graduation. He would like to thank Adam, Professor Ramlal and Professor Harris for being supportive of his plans and efforts.

"I don't know the way to success, but the way to failure is to try to please everybody."
—Anonymous

Computer Information Systems

Bachelor of Science

Ngina Panton

Ngina will continue her education in graduate school pursuing a Master's degree. She would like to thank her parents, Jennifer Jones and Earl Panton, and her boyfriend, Kevin Lewis, for their love and support.

"Everything I do is a reflection of myself, so I strive for perfection."

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Arts

Keri Lynn Papaleo

Keri plans to embark upon a full time teaching career after graduation and attend graduate school for her Master's degree. She was a member of the Dean's List for academic excellence. Her interests include special education, reading and spending time with her family. Keri wishes to thank her parents, brothers, fiance Cesar and daughter Emma and her friends and family for their love.

"All our dreams can come true if we have the courage to pursue them."

—Walt Disney

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Angela Parente

Angela will continue her education in graduate school pursuing her Master's degree following graduation. Her interests include reading, painting, listening to music, singing and dancing. She would like to thank her parents and her entire family and her friends for always believing in her.

"You just have to keep on breathing, because tomorrow the sun will rise and who knows what the tide will bring."

—Tom Hanks in Castaway

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Margaret Parris

Margaret would like to begin graduate school to earn her Master's degree in Nursing after she graduates in June of 2010. Her interests include teaching, sewing and gardening. She would like to thank Shirley Lewis Davis, Dr. Tae Sook Kim and Dr. Jerdan for their inspiration and support of her goals.

"As I journey on this path, many have gone before me. Many will follow. The burden is heavy. I will rest if I must, but I will never quit."

Nursing

Bachelor of Science

Jennifer Pecikonis

Jennifer will receive her Bachelor's degree in June of 2010. At SJC she was the recipient of a certificate in Marketing. Her interests are centered around the New York Yankees. She would like to thank Professor Angela Diaz, her mother and stepfather, and everyone else who supported her educational efforts.

"Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away."

—Hillary Cooper

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Science

Sade Peter

Sade would like to earn her Ph.D. and an M.D. in the future. At SJC she was Senior Class Representative, president of the Fashion Club, an Orientation leader, Junior Class Representative, and a member of the Desi, Dance and Science clubs. She extends her thanks to her family, friends and teachers who supported her during her education.

"If you want to stand out, don't be different—be astounding."

—Anonymous

Biology

Master of Science

Eugennie Plummer-Herb

Already a practicing R.N., Eugennie would someday like to earn her PhD. Her interests include reading, sewing--and just being herself. She extends her heartfelt thanks to God, her husband Michael and to the entire nursing faculty for their support, encouragement and education.

"I will not follow where the path may lead. I will go instead where there is no path and leave a trail so others may follow."

—Harold McAlindon

Nursing

Bachelor of Arts

Aimee Pomaro

Aimee is planning on a career as an Occupational Therapist. At SJC she was a member of the Italian Club and was selected for Dean's List for academic excellence. She would like to thank her family and friends for supporting and encouraging her in all that she does.

"If there's ever a tomorrow when we're not together, there's something you must remember: Even if we're apart, I'll always be with you."—Winnie the Pooh

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Minerva Ponce

Minerva's future plans haven't crystalized yet, but she had a very active career at SJC. She was a member of the Student Ambassadors Club, a member of CHIPS and a participant in Operation Homefront and Spirit Day as a fundraiser. She was also a member of Theta Alpha Kappa Religious Honor Society. She thanks all her professors, especially her English professors.

"All we have to decide is what to do with the time that is given to us."

—J.R.R. Tolkien

English

Bachelor of Arts

Erica Quick

Erica plans on teaching elementary school following graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Dance Team, Varsity Softball Team and the Student Athletic Advisory Committee. She would like to thank her mother, father, sister and brother, her family and friends for all their support and encouragement.

"A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step. You have to start with a single step and then keep taking steps in that direction to reach the destination."—Confucius

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Mahmudur Rahman

Chemistry

Mahmudur plans on earning his doctoral degree in Pharmacy and becoming a pharmacist. At SJC he was a member of the Science Club, Globespotters and Desi Student Association. He is also a member of Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society. He would like to thank Professors Rehmann and Kone for inspiring and guiding him during his college career.

"Any intelligent fool can make things bigger and more violent. It takes a touch of genius and a lot of courage to move in the opposite direction."—Anonymous

Bachelor of Science

Rhomesia Ramkellowan

Biology

Rhomesia plans on entering graduate school to obtain a Ph.D. in Biochemistry. At SJC she was CAB Coordinator, a member of the Science Club, newspaper staff, Chapel Players House Staff/House Manager, and a member of the Senate. Her interests include watching plays and movies. She would like to thank her family and friends for their love and support.

"The only thing to fear is the unlive life!"
—Anonymous

Bachelor of Science

Pamela Rampersad

Health Administration

Pamela plans on entering graduate school in pursuit of her Master's degree. Her interests include traveling and reading. She would like to thank all the staff and faculty at St. Joseph's for their encouragement and inspiration.

"Aim for the stars! Trust in yourself and say, 'Yes I can.' Be positive and positive energy and thought will always follow you."

Bachelor of Science

Eugene Ramsay

While a student at St. Joseph's, Eugene was a member of the Nursing Club. She enjoys walking and listening to music. She extends her thanks to her family, her job supervisors and the entire faculty of St. Joseph's for supporting and encouraging her through her education.

"What you can do today, leave not for tomorrow."

Nursing

Bachelor of Science

Johann Restrepo

Johann would like to be an entrepreneur and start his own computer business. At SJC he received a scholarship for academic performance and was a member of the Dean's List. Among his interests are traveling, roller blading, running, biking and action movies. He would like to thank his entire family for all of their love and support.

"I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me."
-Philippians 4:13

Computer Information Systems

Bachelor of Arts

Rolonda Robinson

Rolonda will begin her teaching career following graduation. She will also enter graduate school pursuing a Master's degree. She would also like to be a camp owner. At SJC she was on the varsity Swim Team, Volleyball team, the Student Ambassadors, Speech Club, Fashion Club and CSA. She would like to thank her mother, father, brother and sister for all their love and help.

"Love life and laugh, simply because you are blessed!"

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Cherylin Rosemond

Cherylin plans on attending graduate school pursuing a Master's degree. Along with her Bachelor's degree, she earned a Certificate in Leadership and Supervision and a Certificate in Marketing, Advertising and Public Relations. Her interests include reading, baking, singing and swimming. She would like to thank God, her mother, aunt, brother, family and friends for their support.

"I can do all things through Christ, who strengthens me."
—Philippians 4:13

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Science

Donna Ruiz

Donna hopes to become a Family Nurse Practitioner in the future. She enjoys bowling and traveling. She would like to thank Shirley Davis, Dr. Boas Yu, Linda Pasquale, Professor Mohamed and Dr. Gasper for their guidance and inspiration.

"The race is not for the swift, but for those who endure it to the end."

Nursing

Bachelor of Arts

Jacquelin Sabin

After graduation, Jacquelin plans on joining the Peace Corps. At SJC, she was an Orientation Leader and a member of the Choral Society and the Globespotters. She was also in the Honors Program and a member of Sigma Iota Chi Honor Society and she was on the Dean's List. She would like to thank her aunt, S. Susan Wilcox, for her inspiration and guidance.

"Apparently, there is nothing that cannot happen today."
—Mark Twain

Social Sciences/ History

Bachelor of Science

Carlotta Sadler

Carlotta would like to become a Sergeant Major in the United States Army. At SJC she received a Certificate in Marketing along with her degree. She enjoys reading, running, decorating and gardening. She would like to thank her daughter Shannon for all her encouragement.

"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings like eagles."

—Isaiah 40:31

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Arts

Christina Santamaria

Christina will begin her teaching career after graduation and attend graduate school for her Master's degree. At SJC she was a member of the Child Study Club, Chapel Players, Beta Upsilon Delta sorority and was the president of the Dance Club. She was also selected for the Dean's List. She would like to thank her mother and father, sister Paula and all her teachers and friends at SJC.

"A teacher affects eternity; he can never tell where his influence stops."

—Henry Brook Adams

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Tamara Santana

Tamara will receive her Bachelor's degree in June of 2010. She enjoys traveling, baking and spending time with her family. She extends her thanks to her son Daniel, her husband David and her mother who supported and encouraged her through the journey of her education.

"No one knows what they can do until they try."

—Les Brown

Therapeutic Recreation

Bachelor of Science

Tanya Serulle

Tanya hopes to use her degree to find a job in a corporate accounting firm. At SJC she was a member of the Dance Club, the Desi Student Association and she was an editor of Footprints 2010. She is also the winner of at St. Joseph's College Scholastic Achievement Award and she was on the Dean's List. One of her main interests is listening to music.

"Many people at the end of the day find out that they still truly are not happy and feel emptiness inside. What they don't know or don't want to accept is that the answer is in front of them."

Accounting

Bachelor of Arts

Concetta Simon

Along with her Bachelor's degree, Concetta is certified to teach math on the secondary education level, a career which she plans on. At SJC she was a member of Beta Upsilon Delta sorority and was the holder of an Academic Achievement Scholarship. She would like to thank her mother, her grandparents and Nelson for all their support and love.

"You were born an original. Why live your life like a copy?"
—Concetta Simon

Mathematics

Bachelor of Science

Jacqueline Simpson

Jacqueline would like to continue her education to earn a Master's degree in Community Health. She also received a Certificate in Counseling at SJC. She enjoys cooking and baking as interests. Jacqueline would like to thank her family for their support and her pastor for his encouragement.

"What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us."
—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Arts

Felix Slavutskiy

Felix has his eye on the silver screen. He would like to be a film producer as a career. At SJC he was on the Dean's List for several semesters. His interests include film, mixed martial arts and music. His special thanks go out to Professor John Gilvey for his support and encouragement.

"I believe in sleeping."
—Bruce Lee

Speech Communication

Bachelor of Science

Georgia Slowley

Gorgia will continue her education in pursuit of a Master's degree in Public Health. One of her major interests is traveling. She would like to thank her husband Charles, and her four sons Andros, O'Brian, Raeson and Rinaldo for all their support and love.

"That man is successful who has lived well, laughed often, loved much, has filled his niche and accomplished his task and who has left the world better than he found it."—R.L. Stevenson

Health Administration

Bachelor of Arts

Nickolas Souleotis

Nickolas plans on being a high school English teacher. At SJC he was the Arts Editor of The Spirit, secretary of SGA, an Orientation Leader and a member of Campus Ministry and Outreach. He is also a member of Theta Alpha Kappa Religious Honor Society. He would like to thank his mother for all of her support, encouragement and inspiration.

"Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you'll land among the stars."—Les Brown

English

Bachelor of Science

Kleedy St. Surin

Kleedy wishes to attend Medical School in August of 2010, following her graduation. At SJC she was a member of Beta Upsilon Delta sorority, Caribbean Student Association, Fashion Club, Student Ambassadors, Royal Steppers and she was the Junior Class Representative and an Orientation Leader. She would like to thank all the members of her family for their love and support.

"Not everybody can do everything, but everybody can do something."

—Alicia Keys

Biology

Bachelor of Science

Nicole Taylor

Nicole is planning on attending St. Joseph's College to earn her Master's degree. She wishes to thank her husband for being so supportive of her during her undergraduate career.

"Many of our dreams at first seem impossible, then they seem improbable, and then, we summon the will, they soon become inevitable."—Christopher Reeve

Health Administration

Bachelor of Science

Emanuel Turner

Following his graduation, Emanuel plans on entering graduate school to earn a Master's degree in Social Work. He was on the Dean's List and earned certificates in Counseling and Gerontology. He thanks his mother, brother, children and Ms. McCullough, Mr. Yancey and Mr. McCord for their tireless support.

"Be the captain of your own fate; master your own destiny; further your education, and watch the sun rise on your future."

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Arts

Gina Utano

Gina plans on beginning her teaching career after graduation and entering the Literacy program at SJC for her Master's degree. At St. Joseph's she was a member of the Child Study Club and was selected for Dean's List. Her interests include shopping, reading and listening to music. She would like to thank her parents, family and friends for guiding her in the right direction.

"If you can imagine it, you can achieve it. If you can dream it, you can become it."

—William Arthur Ward

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Diana Valerio

Diana plans on embarking upon a teaching career after graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Science Club and CAB staff. She was also a member of the Honors program. Her interests include sports and the arts. She would like to thank her parents, her siblings and her friends for all their encouragement and guidance.

"I hope your dreams take you to the corners of your smiles, to the highest of your hopes, and to the most special places your heart has ever known."—Anonymous

Biology

Bachelor of Arts

Nicole Vendemio

Nicole would like to become a teacher and then get her Master's degree in Education Administration. She was a member of the Dean's List for all four years of her college education. She would like to thank her family and all her friends at SJC for their constant support and James for pushing her to work harder and be better.

"Your Attitude determines your altitude."
—Anonymous

History

Bachelor of Arts

Shannon Watrous

Shannon plans to start her career as an elementary school teacher and enter graduate school to pursue her Master's degree. At SJC she was the co-president of the Child Study Club and a member of the Desi Student Association. She is also a member of Kappa Mu Epsilon and Sigma Iota Chi honor societies. Shannon is the holder of a Presidential Scholarship.

"Great opportunities to help others seldom come, but small ones surround us every day."

—Sally Koch

Child Study

Bachelor of Science

Vostine Weekes

Vostine plans on pursuing her Master's degree in Social work following graduation. Her interests include attending church, collecting antiques and cooking. Her thanks are extended to her husband, her professors who were so influential and to the Lord Jesus Christ for being her guiding inspiration.

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

—Phillipians 4:13

Community Health and Human Services

Bachelor of Science

Kristen Wepppler

Kristen was the holder of the St. Joseph's Academic Scholarship and the Local Labor Unions Scholarship. Her interests include basketball. She would like to thank her mother, father, Mike, grandmother and grandfather for being so supportive and encouraging of her efforts.

"There has never been another you. With no effort on your part, you were born to be something special and set apart. What you do with that gift is a decision only you can make."—Dan Zadra

Business Administration

Bachelor of Science

Melonee Winter

Melonee plans on entering the graduate program at SJC to earn her M.B.A. Following that, she would like to continue in pursuit of a doctoral degree. She enjoys writing poetry and short stories and mentoring at-risk youths. She would like to thank her family and all those who kept her focused on achieving her goals. A special thanks to Channy, Jamal and G. for their support.

"In any moment of decision, the best thing you can do is the right thing, the next best thing is the wrong thing, and the worst thing you can do is nothing."—Theodore Roosevelt

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Science

Jia Chu Xie

Jia Chu will use the knowledge he gained as an undergraduate to enter the business world. He enjoys traveling. He would like to thank his parents and his girlfriend for their support and encouragement.

"Pain past is pleasure."
—Anonymous

Organizational Management

Bachelor of Arts

Victoria Yacono

Victoria plans on embarking upon a full time teaching career after graduation. At SJC she was a member of the Dance Club, the Choral Society and she was a Senate Representative. Her interests include singing, psychology, dance and art. She would like to thank her parents, sister and grandmother, who would have been very proud of her.

"In matters of style, swim with the current, in matters of principle, stand like a rock."
—Thomas Jefferson

Child Study

Bachelor of Arts

Zeinab Yehya

English

Zeinab would like to be an English Professor and a freelance writer. At SJC she was a member of the Choral Society, Campus Ministry, PAWS, History Club, and was a Peer Tutor and Senate Representative. She also is a member of Sigma Iota Chi and Delta Epsilon Sigma Honor Societies. She would like to thank her fiance and parents for all their encouragement.

"Don't let schooling interfere with your education."
--Mark Twain

Master of Science

Sorophina Young

Nursing

Sorophina would like to thank her husband, sons, family, friends and co-workers for all their support, love and guidance. Her interests include reading, listening to music, dancing and swimming.

"The greatest results in life are attained by simple means and the exercise of ordinary qualities."
--Owen Felthana

Bachelor of Science

Maryann Rosario Reyes

Organizational Management

Maryann would like to continue her studies in a graduate program seeking her Master's degree. Her interests include cooking and party planning. She would like to thank her husband John, her mother, her daughter Elisha and her brothers for their constant inspiration and support.

"When life throws you a curve ball, play the game."
--Anonymous

Jesus Arriaga

Bachelor
of Arts

Psychology

Nadine Augustin-Orcel

MS/MBA

Health Care
Management

Petal Bovell-Proffitt

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Kendrick Chery

Bachelor
of Science

General Studies

Melanie Gonzales

Bachelor
of Arts

Child Study

Courtney Gordon

MBA

Management

Victoria Holiday

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Kettie Hyacinthe

MBA

Health Care
Management

Alexandra Ikonomou

Bachelor
of Arts

Child Study

Shuangxue Jin

Bachelor
of Science

Accounting

Michelle Lewis

Master
of Science

Health Care
Management

Nicole Lenino

Bachelor
of Arts

Human Relations

Wendy Lin

Bachelor
of Science

Accounting

Edith Mambu

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Iharsa McKay

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Gaitree Narain

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Nigar Nurizade

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Cassandra Palmer

Bachelor
of Science

Organizational Management

Lauren Petrosino

Bachelor
of Arts

Child Study

Myldred Previl

Master
of Science

Nursing

Nicole Reid

Bachelor of Science

Nursing

Ashley Rodriguez

Bachelor
of Arts

Child Study

Maciel Rodriguez

Bachelor
of Arts

Child Study

Barbary Roberts

Bachelor
of Science

Health Administration

Mary Russell-Lewis

Bachelor
of Science

Nursing

Julia Serewko

Bachelor
of Arts

Child Study

Edelweiss Singh

Bachelor
of Science

Nursing

Shaniqua Smith

Bachelor of Science

Business Administration

Alex Vargas

Bachelor of Arts

Child Study

Fun Facts About the Class of 2010

By the Numbers:

40

The number of students going into health careers, either in nursing or in health care management or administration.

32

Still the most popular undergraduate major, Child Study leads the pack with 32 graduates in the Class of 2010.

23

Big shock here. The number of Business students in the Class of 2010, including administration and accounting--but not MBAs.

4

The most popular name in the Class of 2010? Nicole, with 4, followed by a tie at 3 between Francesca, Jackie and Jessica.

4

Total number of English majors in the Class of 2010.

- 33 Number of decorative kale plants planted by custodial staff in the fall semester.
- 1 Number of students in the class whose first name is Edelweiss. Selected as the nicest female name by the Austrian embassy.
- 44 Average number of pages in a senior thesis (not including works cited pages).
- 89 Number of wraps consumed by seniors at Evodio's Place during an average school day.
- 2 Number of seniors involved in the production and publication of Footprints 2010.
- 7 Total number of seniors in the Class of 2010 who know the location of the Student Publications Office.
- 0 Total number of physics, anthropology, philosophy and music majors in the Class of 2010.
- 98 Actual cost in dollars (not Euros) to print a single copy of Footprints 2010.
- 6 Including 2010, hopefully the number of consecutive national championship awards won by Footprints.
- 3 Total number of students in the Class of 2010 who selected St. Angela Hall as their favorite building on campus.
- 40 Average amount of a parking ticket for being on the wrong side of the street during Alternate Side days.

St. Joseph's College
SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
BACHELOR OF ARTS
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Francesca Rachel Alexis
Kristin Marie Arcuri
Jesus Arriaga

Kimberly Ann Baylous
Ariel Kristen Bedeau
Amelia Bertolino
Michelle Janine Bonasera
Katelyn Marie Brothers
Keara Marie Browne
Amanda Bruni
Krystal Lee Cabrera
Danielle Mary Calamia
Charnelle Marie Campbell
Michael Vincent Capizzo
Francesca Casale
Jessica Chirico
Stacey Cius
Jaclyn Mary Collins
Warren R. Corazzini
Adam Dennis Crispo
Amy Ann Cruz
Mary Anne D'Acierno
Sally Eden Demosthene
Marsha Desrosiers
Francesca Rita Dolan
Corina Estevez
Daphney Etienne
Ana D. Fernandez
Maryellen Theresa Ferrera
Nicole Finizio
Elizabeth Rose Flack
Gregory Charles Gallo
Wynee Ganthier
Filomena Gargano
Beatrice Gaspard
Melissa Anne Giambrone
Melanie J. Gonzales
Marie Yves Guisment
Kaynetha Jasmine Hall
Alexandra M. Ikonomou
Jessica Jeudy
Franky Jordan
Makita Janika Joseph
George Diego Kambanaos

Erin Bridget Kenny
Yamilee Sarah Laguerre
Christine Rose Lanieri
Danielle Marie Lawless
Charity Lilyan Christine Lawson
Melissa Therese Leeds
Nicole Marie Lenino
Jessica Ann Lintner
Charlette A. Lopez
Karen Vanessa Maduro-Vargas
Briana R. Manza
Rosemarie Jacqueline Marchese
Kelly-Johanna Martin
Cara Loreal Maruca
Carol Jeanne Mauriello
Lawrence Omesh Morgan
Rose C. Nierer
Delilah Lydia Ortega
Keri Lynn Papaleo
Angela Katharina Parente
Lauren Ann Petrosino
Aimee Nicole Pomaro
Minerva Ponce
Erica Ann Quick
Rolonda Robinson
Ashley Rodriguez
Maciel Rodriguez
Donna Marie Russo
Amanda Jane Ryan
Jacquelin Grace Sabin
Diana Marie Salomone
Christina Rose Santamaria
Melissa Yasmin Sarmiento
Lauren Alyssa Schirripa
Julia M. Serewko
Concetta Marie Simon
Dale A. Singh
Feliks Slavutskiy
Nickolas John Souleotis
Jesse Richard Stancati
Chelsea Cusimano Temkin
Gina Marie Utano
Alex Vargas
Nicole Vendemio

Shannon Victoria Watrous
Victoria Anne Yacono
Zeinab Yehya
Zhong Xi Zheng

St. Joseph's College
SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES
BACHELOR OF SCIENCE
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Renee Edwina Adamson
John Anthony Attard
Kathleen Mary Brucas
Nicholas Joseph Brucato Huldah Wendy Charles
James Douglas Ciago
Kajal P. Dalal
Wenilda De Leon
Meagan Caitlin Doody
Michael Dziewit
Wilkerson Mozard Exantus, II
Lawrence John Fawcett
Gibran Y. Garcia
Edward Seung-Jun Han
Cassandra Hasenbein
Ben-Yan Evelyn Ho Lee
Bala Huseinovic
Saima Jalil
Mabel Joseph
Kevin James Keckeisen

Edwin Ottoniel Lazo
Wendy X. Lin
Brian Richard Mahon
Jaime Michelle Mascetti
Lewis John Monaco
Regina Normil
Lawrence Petrosino
Mahmudur Rahman
Rhomesia L. M. Ramkellowan
Jacqueline R. Rendon
Karina Yvette Rodriguez
Tamiara Santana
Tanya Virginia Serulle
Shaniqua Myoshi Smith
Kleedy Margellucie St.Surin
Avuke M. Ukiri
Kristen Weppler
Shannon Marie Wilkey
Diana Mercedes Valerio

St. Joseph's College
School of Professional and Graduate Studies
BACHELOR OF SCIENCE
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Michael Adler
Shatisha Christine Aiken
Margaret C. Als
Mavis Agatha Atkinson
Maudeline Bernadin-Renaud
Mander Alexis Monet' Best
Angela Lorraine Blackett
Petal Bovell-Proffitt
Sharon A. Brown
Ralph Jeffrey Carter
Ivy Lai Yi Chan
Louanne Carina Charles
Diana L. Chavez
Dweh Worjloh Chebo
Pei Jun Chen
Yi Rong Chen
Rufina Clement
Eileen A. Costello
Charles Randolph Daly
Peter Christoper Defeo
Naderge Dossous
Sonya A. Edwards
Miguel Estevez
Danielle Marie Gershovich
Dianne Allison Gordon
Jacqueline Antoinette Grant
Michele Dawn Green
Charmaine Michelle Griffith
Henrietha Marcela Harrison
Bridget Devona Harvey
Cheryl Hazelton
Cheryl J. Henry
Sahara Denise Hill
Teresa M. Hill
Karaine Carmeta Hobbs
Alamgir Hossain
Guang Wen Huang
Janice M. Hypolite
Mogbejule Inweh
Chun Hua Jin
Shuangxue Jin
Wiletha Jones
Audrey Lilieth Joseph
Susan Bernadette Lacroix

Andrew M. Lauckhardt
Ilia-Aurora M. Lebron
Benjamin T. Lee
Michelle Lane Lindo
Tiffany Monique Maldonado
Serge Maliarov
Edith Harris Mambu
Joy Heimowitz Margulies
Erica Bernadette Martins
Minu Mathew
Marlyn T. Maulsby
Iharsa Semaj McKay
Jennifer Katherine Meinke
Dennis Mitchell
Shirley C. Montanez
Deborah Ann-Linton Morales
Carolyn Murphy
Gaitree Narain
Ana P. Nelson
Nereida Nieves
Frances L. Noel
Nigar M. Nurizade
Mary O'Brien
Donna D. O'Neill
Sandra Rema Osei
Maria C. Otero
Kehinde Oyediran Oyewole
Cassandra Maritza Palmer
Luminita Pamparau
Ngina Kareema Panton
Margaret Antoinette Parris
Shyla R. Paul
Jennifer Pecikonis
Patricia Elizabeth Raffington
Pamela Rampersad
Eugene D. Ramsay
Nicole Suzanne Reid
Johann I. Restrepo
Barbary Isabella Roberts
Paula Ann Robertson
Cherylin Marrian Rosemond
Donna G. Ruiz
Mary M. Russell-Lewis
Carlotta May Sadler

Maryse Salerno
Eda Sanchez-Persampieri
Frank Sardinias
Harolyn Scott
Maureen Shannon
Pauline M. Simmons
Jacqueline Delores Simpson
Verna Mae Sinclair
Edelweiss Singh
Georgia Marie Slowley
Rosy St. Fort
Nicole Taylor
Yusef Omar Thomas
Vostine Juliet Weekes
Fannie Lorraine Wilks
Pamela Wilson
Melonee S. Winter
Warren W. K. Wong
Jia Chu Xie
Ge Duo Zhao

4/23/2010

St. Joseph's College
MASTER OF ARTS IN LITERACY AND COGNITION
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Melissa Marie Cambria
Amie Sabrina Ettinger
Beth A. Grieco
Jennifer M. Imperati
Lisa Marie Kay
Afrodite Konstandakis
Linique Juanita Looby
Debra Lynn Lupenowicz
Marissa Ann Marucci
Sara Jane Massimino
Amy Elizabeth Mazza
Dina Marie Mino
Ncole Marie Monte
Nicola M. O'Connor
Janet Mary Penigian
Gina Marie Pisano
Katherine Ann-Jeanette Purdue
Sameena Usmani Rahman
Andrea Rose Rosado
Maria Sabina Sena
Kaleena Ann Vargas
Loren Marie Verrecchio
Shelia Charmaine Williams

St. Joseph's College
MASTER OF SCIENCE IN MANAGEMENT
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Nadine J. Augustin-Orcel
Sharon Christian
Michelle Ann Lewis
Sophia Antonette Little
Margaret K. Mavrinac
Saman Mey
Charlene Ledgister Mitchell
Omesha Paschal
Donald A. R. Thom
Sherrie Yvonne Young

St. Joseph's College
MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Jennifer Arocho
Paula A. Atkins
Darlene Y. Bautista
Wayne C. Carey
Sharon Christian
Sherryann Jonita Coker
Aklima Ellis
Aaishatu D. Glover
Courtney Syron Gordon
Charanjeet Singh Jassal
Poonam Jassal
Josy Lamour
Belinda Kavanagh-Lantimo
Nadia Khan
Saman Mey
Charlene Ledgister Mitchell
Marta Moos
Sandra R. Narain
Thomas O'Connell
Racheal Bosede Omole
Telford Perez
Pachareephan Jam Rangsiewongse
Allana Smith
Gregory Stepheny
Donald A. R. Thom
Sherrie Yvonne Young

St. Joseph's College
MASTER OF SCIENCE IN NURSING
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Alva Bailey-Whyte
AnneMarie Nicola Campbell
Judith Domaris Daniel
Eugennie Plummer-Herb
Myldred Previl
Yvonne Stanford-Greaves
Sorophina R. Young

St. Joseph's College
MBA IN HEALTH CARE MANAGEMENT
Candidates for Graduation
Class of 2010

Nadine J. Augustin-Orcel
Latifah Brenda Gibson
Kettie Hyacinthe
Farah Julien-Clarke
Elaine M. Knight
Joan M. Saunders
Edgar Severe

Professor Thomas Petriano of the Religious Studies Department engages his class in a discussion of a finer point of doctrine (photo above).

Professor Thomas Grochowski of the English Department prepares materials for his Film/Media Form course which emphasizes the study of narrative, dramatic and poetic formal practices utilized in both Hollywood and international films. This is one of the many electives offered by the department (photo above).

It's not as difficult as it seems, or at least that is what Professor Karen Auh of the Mathematics Department would have you believe. Professor Auh teaches a variety of math subjects and has proven to be exceptionally popular with freshmen, who come away from her classes with a strong grasp of math fundamentals (photo above).

Faculty

Even after we figured out what we wanted our futures to look like, it would take a variety of forces to help us achieve our goals. Like sculptors working with clay, the dedicated faculty of St. Joseph's College worked to shape us and form us into graduates who would be comfortable in the world of work, or in graduate school or in professional schools. For four years, we were their mission, and they gave us the individual and personalized attention that we were promised when we first arrived as freshmen. It's axiomatic, really: a great school has a great faculty--like the one at St. Joe's.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL

S. Elizabeth Hill, J.D.
President

S. Loretta McGrann, Ph.D.
Provost

S. Margaret Buckley, Ed.D.
Academic Dean
School of Arts and Sciences

Thomas Travis, Ph.D.
Vice President for Planning
Dean of PGS

Nancy Connors, M.S.
Vice President for Institutional Advancement

Theresa LaRocca Meyer, M.S.
Vice President for Enrollment Management

Susan Hudec, Ph.D.
Dean of Students
School of Arts and Sciences

Every institution needs people at the very top who make the decisions that affect the entire community. At St. Joseph's College, it is the President's Council that advises S. Elizabeth Hill and shapes the future for the school, its students and staff members.

Administration, Faculty and Staff

William Meng, Ph.D.
Director of Library Services

Mary Jo Chiara, B.A.
Assistant V.P of Alumni Relations and Stewardship

Susan Straut Collard, Ph.D.
Director of the Dillon Center

Sherrie VanArnam, B.A.
Director of Co-Curricular Programs

Michael Larson, M.A.,
M.F.A.
Director of ACES Program

Robert Pergolis, M.A.
Registrar

It takes teamwork to run a college year in and year out. The team that does it is an experienced group of administrators who are in charge of everything from the libraries to student activities; student records to interfacing with alumni. St. Joseph's college is fortunate to have an administration that is sensitive to the needs of every member of the college community, students, faculty and staff.

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Karen Auh, M.S.
Assistant Professor of Mathematics

Jean Black, M.P.A.
Preceptor
Health Administration

Kenneth Bauzon, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Political Science

Jane E. Beckwith, M.F.A.
Assistant Professor of Art Associate Chairperson

Daniel Beni, M.P.A.
Preceptor
Professional and Grad. School

Esther Berkowitz, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of
Child Study

S. Elizabeth Calfiapetra, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor of
Child Study

John Capela, M.B.A.
Assistant Professor of Business

Frank Carbone, B.S.
Athletic Director
Brooklyn Campus

Mary Chance, M.S.T.
Director of Graduate Management Studies

Gerald Cohen, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Mathematics

Rev. Christopher Coleman, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Religion

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Michele Corsetti, B.A.
Student Life
Specialist

D'adra Crump
Director of Human Resources

Raymond D'Angelo, Ph.D.
Professor of Sociology

Phillip Dehne, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of History

Tetyana Delaney, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Biology

Sharon Didier, Ph.D.
Preceptor in
Organizational Management

Nuria Divi-Sagre, M.S.
Lecturer in Spanish

Janine Farraj-Sleem, M.S.
Assistant to the Vice President
Enrollment Management

George Fasano, M.B.A.
Assistant Professor of Business

Robert Ferguson
Lecturer
Professional and Grad. School

Maria Ann Fletcher, Ph.D.
Coordinator of Graduate Nursing Studies

Debra Freedman, M.S.
Lecturer
Professional and Grad. School

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Linda Fonte, M.S.
Associate Dean
Professional & Grad. School

Barry Friedman, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of
Child Study

Patricia Gabel, M.A., M. Phil.
Assistant Professor of English

Gloria Casper, M.S.W.
Preceptor in Community
Health and Human Services

Hayward S. Gill, M.S.
Preceptor in Community
Health and Human Services

Rev. John Gilvey, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor in Speech Communication

Edward Grant, M.S.
Senior Lecturer in Mathematics

Rosemary Hamlin, M.S.
Instructor
Speech Communication

Michael Hanophy, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor in Biology

Donald Harris, J.D.
Lecturer
Professional and Grad. School

Carol Hayes, Ph.D.
Professor of Biology

Mark Hinds, M.S.
Lecturer
Arts and Sciences

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Wendy Hope, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of
Child Study

Martin Jaffe, Ph.D.
Lecturer
Organizational Management

Marie James
Preceptor in Health Administration

Sharon James, M.P.A.
Preceptor in
Health Administration

S. Helen Kearney, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of
Child Study

Edward Kufuor
Preceptor in Accounting

Dmitry Kupis, M.S.
Assistant Professor of Computer Science

Mirella Landriscina, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Sociology

S. Rosemary Lesser, M.A.
Assistant Professor of
Child Study

S. Febronia Lowenstein, P.D.
Assistant Professor of Math and Child Study

Linda Lombardi, Ph.D.
Preceptor
Health Management

Verina Mathis-Crawford
Preceptor
Graduate Management Studies

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Rosemay McGettrick, J.D.
Assistant Professor of Speech

Michael Mauro, J.D.
Preceptor
Professional and Grad. School

Peter Maust, M.A.
Assistant Professor of History

Maria Montoya, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Spanish

Kone Moriamou, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Chemistry

Eileen Mullen, M.S.
Associate Dean
Professional and Grad. School

Stanley Nevins, Ph.D.
Professor of Philosophy

S. Rosamond O'Keefe, M.S.
Assistant Professor of Psychology

Keith Outlaw, M.Div.
Associate Director of Admissions, Brooklyn Campus

Desmond Palmer, M.A.
Lecturer
Professional and Grad. School

Valerie Quinlan, M.S.
Lecturer in Mathematics

Rosalee Raines, M.P.A.
Preceptor
Health Administration

Administration, Faculty and Staff

S. John Raymond McGann, Ph.D.
Professor of Education

Jill Rehmann, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Chemistry

Louise Rose, M.A.
Assistant Professor of English

Karen Russo, Ed.D.
Assistant Professor of
Child Study

Yvonne Scott, M.A.
Preceptor in Community
Health & Human Services

David Seppala-Holtzman, D. Phil.
Professor of Mathematics

S. Mary Sivillo, M.A.
Coordinator of Student Placement

Sharon Hart Snow, M.S.
Lecturer in French

Clarence Stanley, M.B.A.
Preceptor in Business

Anthony A. Summers, M.P.A.
Preceptor in
Health Administration

Dennis Sutterlin
Lecturer in
Organizational Management

Stacy Temple, M.F.A.
Lecturer in Dance

Administration, Faculty and Staff

Joan C. Thompson, M.S.
Preceptor in Community
Health & Human Services

Richard Torz, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Economics

Jaime Vacca-Hoefner, B.A.
Associate Director of Co-Curricular Programs

Thomas Webb
Lecturer in Health and Human Services

Howard B. Weiner, Ph.D.
Director of Student Publications
Assistant Professor of English

Gloria White Harris
Preceptor in
Health Administration

S. Susan Wilcox, M.S.
Campus Minister and Lecturer in Speech Communication

Jody Dublin, M.A.
Coordinator of Student Housing

Footprints 2010

"Facing the Future"

STAFF

Jaclyn Verbil.....Editor-in-Chief
Kristen McMaster.....Editor-in-Chief
Catherine Muldoon.....Editor-in-Chief
Nina Zito.....Editor-in-Chief

Maureen Saintilus.....Assistant Editor
Marsha Desrosiers.....Assistant Editor

Kajal Dalal.....Senior Section Editor
Tanya Serulle.....Senior Section Editor

Emily Spence.....Staff
Susanne Sparks.....Staff
Jennifer Rosa.....Staff

Thomas Kehoe.....Taylor Publishing Representative

Dr. Howard B. Weiner
Director of Student Publications
Adviser

The future is now

If you are holding your copy of Footprints 2010 in your hands and reading this, then you understand that for you and your classmates, the future has already arrived.

Graduation back in June seems to be part of a distant past, just as memories of four years of undergraduate education at St. Joseph's College are beginning to grow a bit blurry around the edges. It should neither surprise nor shock us: though the future was on the distant horizon for us, when we finally arrived at it, there was a logicality to the progression of events which brought us to it.

Now, our present is what our future once was. It is our new reality. Perhaps we are in graduate school, or working--or as so many of us have realized--out looking for work in an economy where despite economic indicators, the job outlook still seems shrouded in gloom.

And yet, another reality is that St. Joe's did everything it could to prepare us for the future. It educated and nurtured us; it provided us with a skill set for the workplace; it gave us a confidence and maturity that we could only have dreamed about when we entered its gates four years earlier.

We knew all along that we would one day have to face the future. Footprints 2010 hinted at it on almost every page. And now, now the future is here and we are ready to embrace it.

Leaving St. Joe's was sad for many of us--but it was just one more step along the road that we had to take. There will always be Footprints 2010 to remind us of how happy we were to tread that pathway as students of St. Joseph's College.

Tuohy Hall--the gateway to our future, as it appeared in the spring with lilacs blooming.

Burns Hall. Here, the arcane process of admitting us to SJC began, setting our futures in motion.

McEntegart Hall--SJC's library, cafeteria, bookstore, Academic Center, Computer Center. Just how many hours did we spend within the confines of this building in four years?

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
OF
ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

CONGRATULATES
THE
CLASS OF 2010

AND WELCOMES THEM AS ITS NEWEST MEMBERS!

THE ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE - BROOKLYN ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

EXTENDS ITS CONGRATULATIONS AND SINCEREST THANKS TO THE SENIOR MEMBERS OF OUR VARSITY TEAMS !

MEN'S BASKETBALL

PAT CHIAREL, MIKE DZIEWIT, WILKERSON EXANTUS, LARRY FAWCETT, LEW MONACO

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

JULIA SEREWKO

WOMEN'S SWIMMING

JACLYN COLLINS, JESSICA LINTNER, ROLANDA ROBINSON

MEN'S TENNIS

EDWARD HAN

WOMEN'S TENNIS

JESSICA LINTNER

MEN'S BASEBALL

CHRIS COFFEY, CHRIS DAVIDSON, KEITH JURICICH

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

PAT CHIAREL, EDWARD HAN

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

MIKE DZIEWIT, WILKERSON EXANTUS, EDWARD HAN, LEW MONACO

STEP TEAM

MABEL JOSEPH, REGINA NORMIL, KLEEDY ST. SURIN

DANCE TEAM

MARY D'ACIERNO, CASSANDRA HASSENBEIN, ERICA QUICK

WE WISH YOU ALL THE BEST !

CONGRATULATIONS
CLASS OF 2010

On behalf of the Faculty and Staff of the School of Professional and Graduate Studies

CONGRATULATIONS

Best Wishes to the Graduates Of
St. Joseph's College
Class of 2010

From the Admissions Office at St. Joseph's College

CONGRATULATIONS!

We are very proud of you in achieving your M.B.A. degree. May God's blessings be with you always. We love you!

Your Children and Grandchildren,
Marcelle, Denise, Ethan, Aiysha, Naarik and Isaiah

CONGRATULATIONS

to the

Class of 2010

and to all our journalists

past and present

on a job well done!

The Publications Department
of
St. Joseph's College

Henrietta M. Harrison

I would like to thank and dedicate this to my dad, Mr. Joshua Normando Harrison. Though he is no longer with us, he was the greatest cheerleader anyone could ever have wished for. Love you Pa!

This one and all my future accomplishments are for you. I made Dean's List Fall 2009! Dios Te Bendiga Papi. Te Quiero Mucho! Que El Senor Te Tenga En Su Gloria En El Nombre de Jesus Nuestro Salvador. Amen.

Your Daughter,
Henrietta Marcela Harrison, RN, BSN.

Rosemarie Marchese

Dear Rosemarie,

From the moment we saw you to your first word and first steps, we watched you in amazement and felt blessed with the joy you brought our family.

Our pride and joy continues to grow, just as you have grown into a thoughtful and optimistic young woman. You see the world as a place filled with opportunities to take, challenges to master and obstacles to overcome.

We love you very much and take pride in all your accomplishments. We know that you will always make a difference in all the lives of all who come to know you.

Your loving parents

Congratulations on your graduation!

Your hard work and dedication to your studies have earned you high academic achievement. We wish you continued success and much happiness in whatever path you take in life. We are very proud of you.

Love,

Mom, Dad & Cecilia

Elizabeth Flack

Dear Elizabeth,

You make us proud every day. May your future success reflect all your effort and hard work at St. Joseph's College.

Love

Mom and Dad

Charlene Mitchell

To Our Mom and Favorite Auntie:

Thanks for leading us to do the right thing and showing us how to do the right thing. Thanks for being there when the time was right and when it wasn't. Thanks for sharing and caring. Thanks for just being YOU.

Love,

Chaquille Mitchell, Cameron Allen and Chloe Mitchell

Myldred Previl

Congratulations Myldred!

To God Be the Glory

We are So Proud of You

Philome, Binah, Samanta, Varda

"The Spark Still Glows. The Journey Never Ends. The Dream Shall Never Die."

Christina Santamaria

Dear Christina:

Congratulations on your graduation from college. It's inevitable that through hard work and perseverance, your goals in life can be accomplished.

Now that you have reached this goal, use it as a stepping stone for other things you wish to achieve. Always remember the people that have helped you and have loved you through the past years.

Christina, use your knowledge to benefit yourself and others around you. Be a giver in life. We wish you health, happiness and prosperity. May God's hedge of protection always be around you.

Love,

Mom and Dad

Dear Christina,

There are aunts to look up to and aunts who are wise.

Those who are good friends and those who advise....

There are aunts who are lovable and aunts who are fun, and then there is Aunt Christina.... you're all these in one!

You are the greatest aunt and we have lots of fun.

If there were an aunt contest....you surely would have won!

Congratulations on your Graduation! The best is yet to come!

P.S. You're also the best sister and sister in law too with the best jokes.

Love- Paula, Mike, Little Michael, and Mia xoxoxo

Dear John,

Congratulations!

Hard work always pays off.

We are so proud of you!

We wish you love and happiness in all your future endeavors

Love Forever,

Mom, Dad, and Brothers

Footprints 2010

Footprints 2010 is a publication of St. Joseph's College of Brooklyn, New York. It was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. The book consists of 184 pages printed on 100 lb. enamel stock. A stock cover was utilized, bound in Smyth board and stock. Over 30 fonts were used in the design of Footprints 2010, both from the Taylor font library and other sources. A total of 375 copies were printed and the book was delivered in September of 2010. Footprints 2010 was designed and produced in the Taylor Spectra-Elite Vision program and submitted via disk. An IBM Intellistation M Pro equipped with Windows XP was also used throughout the production of the book. Headlines were designed in Word Perfect 10's subapplet, Text Art. The Adviser and Director of Student Publications was Dr. Howard Bruce Weiner. The Taylor Publishing Company representative was Thomas Kehoe of Huntington, Long Island, New York.

